THREE DIE IN COUNTY ACCIDENTS

New Threat Received By Wounded District Attorney

WIDE SEARCH STARTED BY FITTS AIDES

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—(UP)—An enigmatic letter, interpreted as a fresh threat against District Attorney Buron Fitts, was received at his office today while the county prosecutor lay in a hospital with a bullet wound in his arm, received in an assassination attempt last night.

Printed With Crayon
The letter, printed with purple crayon on plain white paper, read: "Keep your eyes on the road."

It was signed only with a wavy line.

Although carrying no direct threat against the district attorney, associates at his office interpreted it as a warning to Fitts that he be careful or harm would befall him.

Find Second Bullet
After talking with Police Chief Charles Dice, the district attorney viewed the bullet which had been fired at him. Investigators at first had believed only one was fired at him, but a thorough check of the automobile disclosed a second bullet which had lodged behind the sun visor. The other was found in the rear compartment of the car in three pieces.

The investigators were unable to determine immediately which bullet struck Fitts in the left arm at the elbow.

An x-ray examination of the arm disclosed that the bullet had not caused any bone injury but that temporary paralysis of the member had followed probable damage to a nerve center. The district attorney's temperature and pulse remained normal during the

STRIKES CLOSE CAR FACTORIES

DETROIT, March 8.—(UP)—More than 50,000 automobile employees were thrown out of work in Detroit and Flint today when sit-down strikes were called in the plants of Chrysler, Hudson, Chevrolet and Fisher Body corporation.

The sit-downs came as attempts of the United Automobile Workers' union to negotiate settlements with General Motors and Chrysler corporation failed of realization.

Shortly after Chrysler conferees refused the demand of the union for sole collective bargaining for its 67,000 automotive employees, sit-down strikes occurred in five of the seven corporation plants in the Detroit area. The plants employed, as of March 1, 19,579 workers.

Earlier, three plants of the Hudson Motor Car company were closed as union officials pressed demands for seniority, recognition and higher wages upon the management. Hudson employment is now 111,000.

An early morning sit-down in the Chevrolet No. 4 plant at Flint brought the consequent closing of plants 5, 8 and 9. The shutdowns sent 5500 workers home.

'WALLY' DEPARTS FOR LOIRE VALLEY

CANNES, France, March 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson, the Duke of Windsor's American friend, left Cannes by automobile today for a two months' stay in the Loire valley, near Tours. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, her American hosts at Cannes.

Mrs. Simpson confirmed to her English lawyers over the weekend that she wants application made for a final decree at Ipswich, immediately after her interlocutory period expires April 27, as both she and the duke have agreed on alternate action in the French courts should there be any hitch in getting her final decree in England.

Mrs. Simpson's intimates insist that a date has been set for her wedding with the Duke of Windsor after the coronation of the duke's brother, George VI.

FEAR HUNDREDS ON SHIP LOST

LONDON, March 8.—(UP)—Usually reliable sources reported today that an Elder-Dempster liner had gone down in flames in the Bay of Biscay, and that it was feared several hundred passengers had been lost.

Unconfirmed reports, coming shortly after official advices to the admiralty and Lloyd's of a disaster to a British ship in Spanish waters, said an unidentified Elder-Dempster ship carrying many loyalist refugees from Spain to Bordeaux, France, had gone down in the Bay of Biscay.

One report said the ship had sunk in flames after being bombarded by a Spanish warship.

Several vessels, including four British destroyers, were reported in the vicinity, trying to pick up survivors.

One announcement of the admiralty, later withdrawn, said the ship was the Abba. The Elder-Dempster line, which operates a large fleet, mainly to Africa and the east, has one ship called the Abba, of 7387 tons, and another called Theadda, of 7136 tons.

DEMAND FOR NEW HOMES REVEALED

CHICAGO, March 8.—(UP)—Major cities of the United States can't build fast enough to meet a rising demand for rented flats, apartments and homes, a United Press survey indicated today.

Housing shortages were threatened in almost every state.

The poll showed rents have risen five to 15 per cent in almost all cities in the last two years, and probably will continue to rise. The demand for rented quarters was the highest since the depression.

High costs of labor and materials slowed construction plans.

Increases in rents were reported from the greatest majority of cities, frequently because of marriages delayed by the depression and separation of families which had "doubled" up in troubled times.

FRENCH PROPOSAL IS TURNED DOWN

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—After a conference with Secretary of Treasury Henry A. Morgenthau Jr., congressional leaders announced today that the treasury had declined to approve a suggestion by the French government that a New York bank be named to act as United States agent for the proposed French defense loan.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson, D., Ark., as spokesman for a conference of congressional leaders and treasury officials, disclosed the action taken by the treasury and said that it had been approved fully by the conferees.

The announcement followed reports that an effort was being made to evade the Johnson act prohibiting loans to nations which have not paid war debts to the United States.

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., had bitterly attacked as "dangerous" reported proposals that would permit Americans with dollars in France to participate in the loan.

Permit For Race Track Is Refused

Granting the request of the original backers of the project, the California Horse Racing board has refused a permit to conduct a race meeting in Orange county.

Action Requested
The permit was applied for under the name of Orange County Fairs, Inc., for the purpose of conducting a race meeting in conjunction with an annual county fair. The request to deny the permit was filed with the board several weeks ago after disapproval of the proposal was indicated in the county.

M. M. McCallen, H. H. McVicar and C. M. Rood, all of Huntington Beach, had entered into an agreement with the old county fair board to underwrite the fair and racing meet in an effort to give Orange county a regular agricultural exhibit and to assist in paying off old debts contracted through presentation of county fairs in former years.

Buildings Planned
The trio had proposed to underwrite the construction of permanent fair buildings and awards for the first year's fair. Expenses for the second year would have been partially paid by the annual amount.

DENTISTS JOIN CREDIT GROUPS

Placing their profession on a business basis, members of the Orange County Dental society are affiliating with the Santa Ana Business Men's association and the Northern Orange County Credit bureau.

The action followed the recent meeting of the dental society, in Fullerton when a resolution recommending 100 per cent affiliation of members with either one of the two organizations was adopted by unanimous vote.

40 Join Here
Phil M. Brown, secretary-manager of the Santa Ana Business Men's association, said that the action of the dental group will result in approximately 40 members of the society affiliating with the local organization. All dentists from Anaheim north will affiliate with the Northern Orange County Credit bureau and dentists practicing in the southern area will join the Santa Ana group.

Commenting upon the action taken by the dental society Brown said:

"Due to the fact that there has been a general misconception of professional ethics the public has not been inclined to consider dental practice as a business and the dentist, therefore, has been left in line for payment as a creditor."

Conditions Cited
"Members of the dental profession in various sections of the county have come to a realization that present day conditions necessitate adoption of the same methods of investigation and credit checks, as exercised by the merchant, for the interchange of information between themselves and the mercantile establishments, so that the dentists may receive prompt payment for their services."

"The Orange County Dental society is to be congratulated on this progressive step as it will enable accounts for dental services to assume their proper place in aiding to determine the credit standing of any individual."

CHILD CONFESSES MURDER OF GIRL

WINDSOR, Vt., March 8.—(UP)—Sheriff Ernest H. Schoenfeldt's marble shooting skill was credited today with coaxing a confession from a five year old suspect in the murder of four year old Beverly Ann Page.

The sheriff first won the boy's confidence by taking him on his knee and giving him a dime. Brought back for a second "interview," the boy lugged along a bag of marbles, bought with the dime.

FARM, LABOR GROUPS BACK COURT PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—Fifteen midwest farm leaders and labor's non-partisan league today swung support to President Roosevelt's judiciary program as senate opponents charged high administration officials with "propagandist activities" in behalf of the court plan.

The farm group announced its support after conferring with Mr. Roosevelt. They declared "agriculture's greatest progress has been thwarted by the supreme court."

This pronouncement came as labor's non-partisan league, created last year to support President Roosevelt's re-election, voted unanimously at an assembly of 600 labor leaders to support the program.

President Roosevelt will speak directly on the court question in a radio "fireside chat" tomorrow night.

The labor league endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt's program was preceded by a series of addresses supporting the plan by Major George Berry, head of the league, Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGraw and Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr., P., Wis.

The labor group called on all workers to unite in support of the court plan. The league was organized during the last presidential campaign to support the re-election of President Roosevelt.

Tonight, John L. Lewis, Committee for Industrial Organization chairman and board member of the league, may speak, Berry said.

Commenting on scheduled speeches by Farley, Ickes and others, Sen. William H. King, D., Utah, said that a resolution already drafted, might be introduced in

INCREASE NAVY, ARMY OF JAPAN

TOKYO, March 8.—(UP)—The lower house in the diet today approved the greatest peacetime budget in Japan's history totaling 2,815,000,000 yen ($802,275,000), with huge army and navy estimates.

The budget estimates for the war office totaled 704,000,000 yen. Navy estimates were 658,000,000 yen.

Both represented slight reductions from the 3,040,000,000 yen budget previously submitted to the diet in January by the ministry of Koki Hirota which the present cabinet succeeded.

However, Gen. Hajime Sugiyama, minister of war, recently was quoted as saying that these defense reductions were only temporary and that during the forthcoming fiscal year the army, at least, would require the full estimates originally submitted.

Finance Minister Shin Koda, former head of the powerful Mitsui interests who resigned to enter the Hayashi cabinet, indicated he would seek to maintain a balanced budget without drastic tax increases. However, certain tax additions were believed inevitable to meet the tremendous financial drain on the empire's economic structure if the new budget is to be met.

ELIMINATION OF BOULEVARD STOP SUGGESTED BY ABBEY

The coroner should know something about these fatal traffic accidents.

And the coroner—Earl R. Abbey—says the boulevard stop has a lot to do with them.

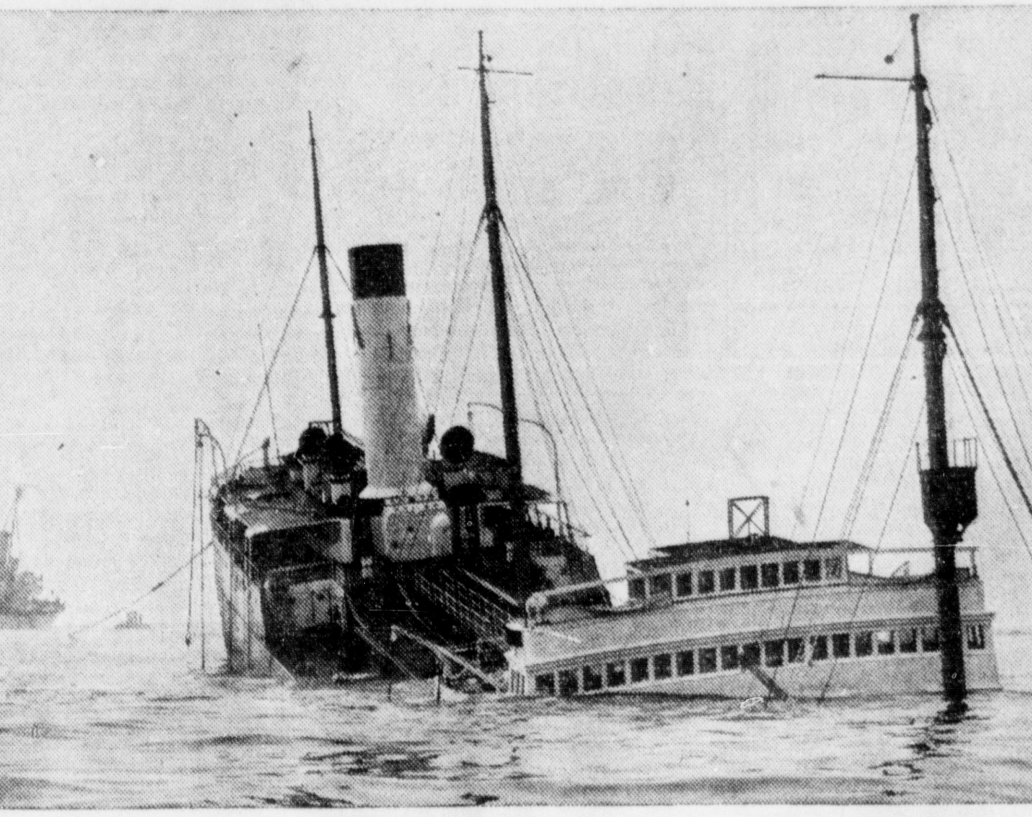

To alleviate the traffic hazard, Coroner Abbey would either have more or less boulevard stops. Either have four at each intersection instead of two; or else cut them out entirely, he says.

Perhaps the latter idea might be better. The coroner points to the city of Fullerton as an example. There isn't a boulevard stop in Fullerton.

And Fullerton has fewer fatal accidents than any community in the county.

TANKER GOES ON ROCKS AFTER COLLISION

The Associated Oil company tanker Frank H. Buck is shown in a sinking condition following a collision with the luxury Dollar liner President Coolidge off Golden Gate. The Coast Guard cutter Slocum has a tow line to the tanker. The oil ship finally drifted onto the jagged rocks at Land's End, where three other ships are slowly pounding to pieces.

QUAKE ROCKS BAY DISTRICT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—(UP)—An earthquake of severe intensity rocked the San Francisco bay region over a radius of 60 miles today, shattering plate glass windows and mirrors, and cracking chimneys. No casualties were reported.

Four Shocks Recorded
Dr. Albert Newlin, director of the seismograph at Santa Clara university, said the main shock occurred at 2:32 a. m. The University of California at Berkeley reported three other quakes. Dr. Perry Byerly said they occurred at 2:52, 3:41 and 6:57 a. m.

Its radius was 60 miles in a northerly direction from Santa Clara, along the old Hayward fault line. Several settling shocks followed, none of which were felt, Dr. Newlin said.

Windows Shattered
Plate glass windows were shattered in store windows here. Several bars reported mirrors in their establishments were cracked. In the east bay region the tremor was more severe. Plaster and chimneys were cracked.

Hundreds of burglar alarms went off in the quake area. It took police an hour to investigate and stop the alarms.

Liquor Bottles Smashed
Merchandise was reported shaken from store shelves in El Cerrito and Richmond. Almost every bottle in one El Cerrito liquor store was hurled to the floor and smashed, but the building was unscathed.

Burglar alarms in Oakland, El Cerrito, Richmond, Albany and San Francisco were set off in nearly all banks. Other damage, in the form of broken street lamps, burst water heaters, and bricks jarred loose from fireplaces and buildings, were reported.

Needle Jolted
Berkeley police reported the shock was so severe it had jolted the needle on the University of California seismograph.

Cracks in the 60 foot tower on the Alameda city hall, repaired by WPA workers last summer after the structure was declared unsafe, were reopened by the quake.

H. B. Guards Save Woman, Man On Boat

While thousands of persons lined the shore, three lifeguards battled a brisk wind and chilling waters for more than two hours yesterday to save a fishing boat and its two occupants.

Tow Boat To Pier
The three lifeguards, who made human tugboats of themselves and towed the boat into the pier and moored it, after an agonizing struggle, were Chief Lifeguard Bud Higgins and Guards Nolan Hasson and Bob Hilton.

The disabled craft, a San Pedro fishing boat owned by A. M. Garrett, who was on board with his wife, was returning to Fish Harbor, after spending two weeks at Newport. Engine trouble developed and the boat was in danger of being swept up on the beach.

Attach Tow Lines
The three guards plunged into the chill waters and swam to the disabled craft where they attached tow-lines and started the fierce battle through the waves, towing the boat behind them.

As the three swimmers neared the pier a heavy breeze drove the boat alongside and threatened to batter it against the 2000-foot structure.

Battling desperately, the three guards maneuvered the boat around the pier-pilings to the lee side. With their grueling work, apparently ended, another heavy wind forced the boat and the guards into the breakers.

Hurled To Deck
Waves beat over the wallowing boat, hurling Garrett and his wife to the deck. Again the human tugboats strained and, after an agonizing long struggle, worked the boat out of danger and moored it to the pier. Later the vessel was towed to Fish Harbor by the Coast Guard patrol boat Aurora.

2 KILLED, 64 HURT ABOARD LINER REX

GENOA, Italy, March 8.—(UP)—Two persons were killed and 64 injured on the liner Rex, fastest and largest ship of the Italian Merchant Marine, during a storm, it was confirmed today. The former "Blue Ribbon" holder of the Atlantic left New York on February 27.

A rigid censorship, imposed by police and line officials the minute the damaged vessel limped into port yesterday, hid details of the ship's worst crossing, but independent sources said one of the persons killed was a passenger, an Italian returning home on a tourist-class after several years in the United States.

The other was a member of the crew, an elevator boy. Giant seas lashed the Rex and threw him against a metal railing with such force that it crumpled and pierced his abdomen.

Most of the 64 injured were hurt on March 4 when the ship still was in the Atlantic, nearing the rock of Gibraltar.

FIGHT SLATED ON NAVY BILL

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—A determined effort to curtail drastically the 1938 billion dollar national defense appropriation when the naval supply bill reaches the senate floor was foreseen today.

First indication of the attack on the $526,000,000—first part of the defense program—came in a statement by Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., leader of the senate "munitions committee" bloc. Nye said he is opposed to increasing the navy's size provided in the appropriation.

Nye revealed also that members of the old munitions committee will join this week in introducing legislation which would deprive private shipyards and munitions makers of millions of dollars annually by nationalizing production of warships and other armaments.

Passed by the house late last week, the navy bill would provide for an increase of 5000 men in navy personnel and appropriate $120,000,000 for construction of new vessels and $29,186,000 for airplanes.

Nye said that his proposed nationalization plan is necessary to end "racketeering" uncovered by the munitions committee's two-year investigation.

BANK OF FRANCE LIFTS GOLD BAN

PARIS, March 8.—(UP)—The Bank of France, following an agreement with the government of Premier Leon Blum, lifted all restrictions on gold transactions today, pending approval of parliament in the form of an approbation decree tomorrow.

The Bank of France fixed a price of one kilogram of fine gold to 24,509.537 francs.

The temporary gold price represents 21.78 francs to the dollar. The government stressed that the price was only provisional for today. A permanent price will be fixed later.

The gold rate fluctuated four times within an hour reaching 24,487 francs for one kilogram of fine gold at 11:45 a. m.

Requa Services Set For Tuesday

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—(UP)—The body of Mark L. Requa, California Republican leader, lay in state at a mortuary here today with hundreds filing past the bier to pay their last respects.

Requa died here Saturday at the age of 71 from complications that followed an operation performed several weeks ago.

The body is to be removed to his Montecito estate, near Santa Barbara, where private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

TWO DROWN, ONE KILLED IN TRAFFIC

Three Orange county residents met violent death during the week end, one a pedestrian traffic victim, and two, victims of drowning.

L. A. Sherman Killed
The victims were: (1), L. A. Sherman, 78, 305 North Garnsey, Santa Ana, who was the county's 13th traffic victim of 1937.

(2), Louis Luna, 8, Talbert, who drowned in a "lake" created in the lowlands near his home by recent rains, when the improvised raft he was riding upon, capsized.

(3), George W. Preston, 48, 325 Normandie place, Santa Ana, who drowned while attempting to swim across the channel at Newport bay.

Sherman, who died two minutes after he was taken to St. Joseph hospital about 7:30 o'clock last night, was struck down by an automobile operated by E. M. Parker, 34, 5671 Magnolia avenue, Riverside, as he was walking at Third and Flower streets, according to city police.

Strikes Windshield
According to Mrs. A. G. Morris, 809 West Third, an eyewitness, who was on the front porch at her home and according to police, it is believed Sherman was thrown on top of the car hood and dashed against the shatterproof windshield.

The windshield was cracked by the terrific blow which resulted, it is believed, when Sherman stepped into the car's pathway and he was unable to avoid the accident. Inquest will be

STATE JOB ACT BEFORE COURT

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The supreme court, without indicating what action it ultimately will take in several long-pending controversial cases before it, today took jurisdiction of a new appeal involving constitutionality of state unemployment insurance legislation.

The new unemployment insurance case involves the question of constitutionality of the Alabama unemployment insurance law, an act intended to supplement the New Deal's social security program.

The court today rebuffed the effort of former federal Judge Halsted Ritter of Florida to have the tribunal consider senate impeachment proceedings which resulted in his removal from office.

Several cases of unusual interest have been pending before the court for some time. In view of the controversy around the tribunal, their impending decision has been the subject of much speculation.

They involve issues which have been raised in discussions of the court and include such major cases as those involving the National Labor Relations act, the Washington Minimum Wage law and the New York Unemployment Insurance law.

The New York case was decided by a 4 to 4 vote several months ago but a request was made to the tribunal for reconsideration of the matter.

TAXICAB DRIVERS SEEK CIO SUPPORT

CHICAGO, March 8.—(UP)—Striking Chicago taxicab drivers petitioned John L. Lewis' Committee of Industrial Organization to accept their newly-formed mid-west taxicab drivers' union and aid it in the four-day-old citywide strike.

The strikers also wired Gov. Henry Horner and W. P. A. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins asking them to assure adequate relief "without discrimination" to strikers "on the basis of need."

Company officials denied hiring strikebreakers. Police arrested a carload of company employees who said they were conveying a Yellow cab. Their car contained a black-jack and two gas pipes.

SEVEN PERSONS ARE INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

Seven persons were injured in Orange county traffic during the week end, according to police and hospital reports on file today and giving details of eight accidents.

Three persons suffered severe back injuries last night near San Juan Capistrano in an accident which sent all to the Santa Ana Valley hospital. The injured were Jack Jeffs, 42; Mrs. Jeffs, 41; and Anna Louise Jeffs, 57, all of Los Angeles. The elder Mrs. Jeffs was most seriously injured.

Rufus Enyart, 22, of the U.S.S. Kingfisher, San Diego, was trying to avoid collision with another car on Chapman avenue about 5 o'clock Saturday night, when he lost control of his own car and it went into a ditch, he said. He suffered a fractured knee and lacerated hands, according to county hospital officials, who attended him. He was transferred to Naval hospital, San Diego, yesterday.

On Chapman, a mile from the county hospital, Thomas Alston, Huntington Beach, suffered bruises and lacerations in a car accident yesterday. He was given first aid at the hospital.

Ernest Black, 24, Laguna Beach, was trying to avoid an accident when the brake rod of his motorcycle came loose last night on Verano road at Century boulevard, near Garden Grove, and the motorcycle collided with a telephone pole, fracturing Black's right leg, according to California highway officials. He was treated at county hospital.

Mary Lou Rhea, about 30, of Buena Park, was slightly injured on Grand avenue, between Franklin and Artesia streets, Buena Park, Saturday night when her car collided with the rear end of one operated by Sam Earl Barron, 36, Buena Park. Barron, highway officials were informed, had pulled his car off the main highway after an axle broke, and was attempting to flag down the approaching car when it collided with the rear of his car. No one was injured.

Coast highway and Borchard street, three miles east of Huntington Beach, yesterday noon, as cars driven by Salvador Duarte, 28, Talbert, and Edward Mark, 26, Pasadena, collided. Mark was making a boulevard stop at time of accident. Duarte was jalled by highway patrol officers on a drunk driving charge and a drunk charge.

Failure to make a boulevard stop was blamed for the accident in which a fertilizer truck operated by N. E. Martinez, 22, Anaheim, and a car operated by G. Shell-horn, South Pasadena, collided Saturday afternoon at the intersection of First street and Harbor boulevard, highway officials reported. No injuries were reported.

REBELS START MASS ATTACK

MADRID, March 8.—(UP)—The insurgents, opening a strong offensive for the encirclement of Madrid, began a mass attack today at Almadrones, near Guadalajara, 25 miles northwest of the capital. Loyalists offered stiff resistance. The rebel drive was believed aimed at cutting the road from Guadalajara to Cuenca, southwest towards the coast.

Gen. Jose Maja, Madrid's defense commander, said the high command expects imminent enemy drives in other sector around the capital.

Gen. Francisco Franco, nationalist commander in chief, rushed more troops from Malaga and the Bilbao fronts today to join 15,000 other reinforcements reported behind the lines for the civil war's greatest assault on Madrid.

Militia units on the front lines were alternately relieved from duty today so they could be given gas mask instruction. All available gas mask equipment was requisitioned and distributed to the troops.

So thorough have been the insurgent preparations for the offensive, loyalists learned, that more than 20,000 tons of food have been concentrated behind the nationalist lines to feed civilians in Madrid.

Townsendites Will Waltz Tuesday

Rhythm and spirit of the minuet will pervade the K. of P. hall, 302 1-2 West Fifth street, at 8 p. m., Tuesday, when hundreds of members of Townsend Clubs of Santa Ana and Orange county, and scores of friends, will assemble for the weekly dance. "These affairs are growing in popularity, and each occasion finds new faces, and brings new friends," an official of one of the local organizations said this morning.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the orchestra of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pederson, of Long Beach, masters of the old-time swings and waltzes.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Bishop of London certainly presented a new argument against birth control, when he told the House of Lords that only a big increase in population, creating more potential passengers, could solve their problem of railroad deficits.

Can't you just hear the Briton of the future giving that toast, "For God, for Country, and the Railroads?"

While the Bishop may have a fine idea for making future railroad customers, the prospects don't look so bright. . . . From the amounts Britain is spending on armaments, it seems like she is merely planning to increase the population of her cemeteries.

However, I guess the public, over there, should listen attentively to any advice given by the high English clergy. Apparently some of them were instrumental in successfully railroading a record king.

During the past few years in this country, the railroads have taken a lot of pains to increase traffic by making scientific improvements. . . . They finally realized that we couldn't open those coach windows, so they installed air-conditioning.

FITTS RECEIVES FRESH THREATS

Bullet Examined
Ballistics experts examined the bullet and the jacket in an effort to identify the type of gun from which it was fired. It was believed a .38 Smith & Wesson automatic. Recent gun sales will be traced immediately, investigators said.

The would be assassins, driving a small car sedan without lights, escaped through a cordon of officers flung over the roads after Fitts, leaving a trail of blood behind him, staggered into his parents' home in suburban Monrovia.

Work of Amateurs
Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz said the shooting evidently was the work of "amateurs."

At the hospital this morning Fitts expressed belief that "somebody disgruntled with the way I handled the Douglas strike case" had shot him, according to Investigator John L. McDonnell. The prosecutor's indictment of 345 strikers broke a recent sitdown strike at the airplane factory. Union heads indignantly scoffed "ridiculous" to any theory that a striker shot Fitts. The district attorney a week ago ordered a bodyguard because of threats Fitts said he received over the strike case.

Fitts' meager description of the car was flashed over the police and sheriff's radio and teletype networks. It was a small dark automobile, either black or blue-black. Fitts obtained no license number but said he clearly distinguished three men in the machine.

Suffers Severe Shock
The prosecutor was in Good Samaritan hospital, still in such a condition that doctors forbade questioning of him. Surgeons said bits of his khaki shirt embedded in the wound by the bullet caused fears of infection. The said Fitts must remain in the hospital at least a week. Severe shock aggravated his condition.

A pet dog barking and growling during dinner at the Fitts home led a guest of the district attorney to pull down the shades, in fear some one was loitering in the yard. Fitts' pretty young wife, Marion, begged him not to leave without his bodyguard, who was having his first night in weeks.

The guard was assigned after Fitts complained of receiving threatening telephone calls because of his prosecution of the Douglas sit-down strikers.

The district attorney, famous for his prosecution of his predecessor, Asa Keyes, and other noted defendants, left the party to visit his father, Buff Fitts. Shortly after 8:30 o'clock he staggered, blood-spattered into the elder Fitts' home.

"I've been shot—call a doctor," he gasped to his mother, who opened the door.

FORMER RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Josephine S. B. Reed, 81, former Santa Ana business woman who owned and operated the Drapery and Shade shop at 116 North Sycamore street, died Sunday at her home in Los Angeles, following an illness of several years.

Mrs. Reed was born in Ohio, and had lived in California for 28 years.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Smith and Tutthill Funeral home. Burial will be in the Fairhaven cemetery.

BARNES CIRCUS TO COME HERE ON MARCH 22ND

With the direct word brought here this morning of the union of two giants of the tented world—now known as the A. I. G. Barnes and Sells-Floto Combined Circus—enthusiasm of young and old was stirred anew when it was announced the big show would be exhibited here Monday, March 22.

First news of the circus was carried here by Don Hanna, contracting press agent for the outfit, who arrived in Santa Ana on the advance car, and a short time later left for San Diego, where the first showing of the season will be made.

The setting for the circus here will be at South Main street and Pomona avenue.

Hanna pointed out on his brief visit that Gardner Wilson, general press representative of the new and expanded organization, would be in this city in a few days to describe the scores of new features that will be available to the Santa Ana public in the first big ten show of the year here.

From Santa Ana, the circus will go to Los Angeles, and then head east on a national tour.

ELIMINATION OF STOPS SUGGESTED

the intersection at the same time. But the main-road driver sails right along. He pays no attention to the other driver. Why? Why, because there's a boulevard stop sign and, of course, the guy will stop.

And then—Bang! Crash! The driver on the side street was thinking about where he was going to spend his vacation. He never saw the stop sign.

The wide-open intersection of Talbert road and Harbor boulevard, where drivers can see the highways in every direction for more than a mile, proves Abbey's point. It is one of the most deadly intersections in the county, although Talbert road is posted with boulevard stop signs.

"If they are going to have boulevard stop signs at all, let's have them on each of the four corners of an intersection where they are deemed necessary," said Abbey. "Then maybe one of the four signs will be seen by somebody, and somebody will stop."

Advertising In 77 Cities Gains

CHICAGO, March 8.—(UP)—Retail newspaper advertising in 77 major cities increased 7.2 per cent from January 1 to February 27 over the same period last year. Advertising Age reported today. Newspapers in the selected cities carried a total of 146,943,885 lines of retail display, compared with 137,107,866 lines in the same time in 1936.

Termites, or white ants, will hollow out a billiard ball.

Kiwanis Will Hear Talk By Nurse

"Startling Conditions" is the usual subject of an address to be delivered by Miss Margaret Van Scoyoc, Santa Ana junior high school nurse, in connection with work with underprivileged children, before the local Kiwanis Club at the regular noon session Wednesday in the Masonic Temple.

R. B. Newcomb, president of the club, will be in charge of the session, and will turn the program over to W. B. Martin, chairman for the day.

A solo by Robert Newcomb, son of Fred Newcomb, chairman of the club's underprivileged child committee, will be one of the features of musical entertainment for the occasion.

U. S. FINANCING PLAN REVEALED

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., today announced March 15 financing plans involving about $967,361,000 which for the first time since the Roosevelt administration came into power do not include a request for new money.

The program, arranged after frequent consultations by the secretary with federal reserve system officials, involves:

1.—Offering of an additional issue of 2 1/2 percent treasury bonds, maturing December 15, 1953, but redeemable at the option of the government on and after December 15, 1949, in exchange for a $502,361,000 issue of 3 percent treasury notes, maturing April 15. The new bonds will form part of a series first offered December 7, 1936.

2. Special treasury bills aggregating $300,000,000 which mature immediately after March 15 and about $165,000,000 interest on the public debt due the same day, will be paid from quarterly tax receipts.

PERMIT FOR RACE MEETING REFUSED

mount granted district agricultural associations for fair purposes. The state grant is based on past exhibitions making it necessary for some group to underwrite the first show.

McCallen, contacted by The Register today, said that he and his associates entered into the program only from a civic standpoint and to help out former directors of the fair association in paying off outstanding indebtedness.

Co-Operation Invited
"Directors of the association came to us," McCallen said, "and invited our co-operation in reviving the county fair here. When we learned that there was organized opposition to the project we withdrew and requested the racing commission to refuse a permit."

3 LOSE LIVES IN ACCIDENTS

conducted for Mr. Sherman tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. at Winbigler's mortuary, Deputy Coroner Bert Casteix announced.

Little Louis Luna of Juarez Mexican colony, a mile and a half northeast of Talbert, was riding a board raft, while his pal, Paul Gonzales, 9, of the same address, was swimming, on the former A. F. Swift ranch, near the colony, about noon yesterday, when the raft capsized. The "lake" is seven feet deep at the deepest place, officials said, and the victim's body was found in water about four or five feet deep. Members of the Huntington Beach police department, and others, used a boat and grappling hooks in recovering the body, now at Brown and Wagner's funeral chapel. No inquest will follow the coroner's investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Preston of Santa Ana, and their friends, Robert Sopher and Miss Lesueur, both of Los Angeles, decided yesterday afternoon to go for the first swim of the year. Preston and Miss Lesueur decided to "swim the channel." About half way across Preston collapsed and sank; he was brought out by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mason, of Los Angeles, who were in the vicinity in a boat. The Newport Beach inhalator squad worked over Preston for more than an hour but to no avail. Preston's death resulted in an investigation by Coroner Earl Abbel but no inquest will be held. An autopsy will be performed at Brown and Wagner's funeral chapel, to determine whether Preston suffered a heart attack, it was stated.

Skeet Club Will Stage "Ghost Shoot"

J. L. Hefter, of Laguna Beach, yesterday afternoon ran off with high honors in a flying-target shotgun competition on the range of the Santa Ana Skeet Club, with a perfect score of 25 out of 25.

Sam Nau, Tustin, was second with 24; L. McClellan, Olive druggist, third, with 23; and E. B. Workman, Orange, fourth with 22.

A "Ghost Shoot" will be an innovation at the range next Sunday, club officials announced this morning.

Raymond Moley, one-time chief of the New Deal brain trust, joined the debate last night with a charge that the administration was "afraid" to put the court question to the people before last November's presidential election. He was answered immediately by Justice Ferdinand Pecora of the New York county supreme court.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Flowers blossom and die; snow falls and melts away; friends draw near and vanish from your path; but God does not change. Whether you recognize or ignore Him; whether you curse or love Him; whether you recognize His personality or think Him far away or non-existent. He never deserts you. He knows; He cares; and He trusts you to respond to His guidance and to cooperate in His perfect will.

Nothing else is as sure as God's abiding love. When the castle of your dreams has been shattered by grief, reach out for the one unchanging fact of your experience. In hours of loneliness and heartache, put your faith in Him. Strength will come and the comforting certainty of the future will carry you bravely on.

COUNTY PEACE OFFICERS WILL MEET IN TUSTIN

Annual "Nockers Night" will be observed by the Orange County Peace Officers' association at a dinner meeting scheduled next Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the K. of P. hall at Tustin.

The new president of the organization, Assistant County Probation Officer David McMillan, has urged all peace officers of the county, "whether past, present or future" members of the association, to attend the "Nockers Night" meeting and express their views upon any question that concerns the organization.

Because the association expects to take up several projects during the year, McMillan is anxious to get the views of all officers as a guide in shaping a course of action.

Everybody will have full privilege and opportunity of "speaking his mind," McMillan announced, but refused to commit himself as to whether he would recommend prohibition in all cases.

The program originally was planned for last Wednesday night, but was postponed.

HOMER CHANEY GOES EAST ON LECTURE TOUR

Homer Chaney, director of the Orange County Federal Forum, will leave Thursday for a three months lecture tour which will take him as far east as Stamford, Conn. Traveling by auto, Chaney will be accompanied by his wife and son, Homer Jr.

The long trek through southern and middlewestern states will find Chaney busy lecturing in the various Federal Forum centers. Thursday night, Chaney will deliver his last California address when he speaks before an audience at Chaffee Junior college, Ontario. Immediately after the lecture, he and his family will start for Waco, Texas.

After two weeks at Waco, Chaney will transfer his activities to Milwaukee, Wis., where he will remain until April 23. From May 1 until July 1, Stamford, Conn., will be the center of a series of forum lectures by the Orange county forum leader. On July 1, Chaney and his family expect to start the return trip to Santa Ana.

During his absence from Santa Ana, the Orange County Federal Forums will be under the direction of W. W. Wieman, Chaney said. The county series of forums will be concluded May 1. Chaney said that all Federal forums will be closed during the months of July and August, to re-open on September 1, when eight more forum centers will be added to the circuit, raising the total number of such centers to 27.

U. S. AND STATE HEADS OF ADULT ED. MEET HERE

Praise for the manner in which classes in the local adult education department have cooperated with special features of the Orange County Federal forum, was received here yesterday from Miss Mary Ely of New York City, editor of the Journal of Adult Education, and John W. Snyder of the California state department of adult education.

Miss Ely and Snyder accompanied Dr. Everett Dean Martin, who spoke yesterday morning at the Unitarian church here, to this city.

Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education in Santa Ana, and a large number of teachers in the department, discussed various phases of the work at considerable length with both the officials of the division.

Miss Ely came to California to supervise a survey of the adult education work, which took her late Sunday to San Diego, and then to Covina. Miss Ely will visit Los Angeles and San Francisco before returning to national headquarters in New York.

STOCK MARKET TO BE TOPIC OF DEBATE AT FORUM MEET

Is the stock market merely the answer to a gambler's dream or does it actually bring benefits to the nation? Interested persons will try to answer the question tomorrow night at the junior college building, 917 North Main, according to Chairman W. H. (Ted) Blanding of the Forum for Political and Economic Education.

The forum, meeting at 8 p. m., will find the subject, "Resolved, That the Stock Market, as Operating in the United States, Is Beneficial to Society." James Anderson, finance advisor, and Phil Hood, accountant.

"There is much division of opinion, and has been for years, over whether the stock market has added to or detracted from the general welfare," Blanding said today. "The question often is asked, 'Is the wealth gained by those who invest on the stock market earned by them, or by whom is it earned?'"

"It often is contended that the stock market is an instrument for gambling," he continued. "On the other hand, many people say the stock market is really a necessary business."

Anderson, who has made a life study of money and values, and is qualified to speak upon the debate subject, will handle the affirmative, and Hood, an accountant who also should have considerable data for the debate, will handle the negative. The public is invited to attend the debate and to take part in the general discussion, without charge.

SAN CLEMENTE CCC CAMP TO BE CONTINUED

The Civilian Conservation Corps camp, at San Clemente State park, will escape the federal economy axe that, on April 1, will eliminate 82 similar camps in the nation.

Continuation of the San Clemente State park camp into the ninth period of emergency conservation work, was announced today at CCC headquarters. This continuation will be effective for the period of April 1 through June 30, at least. Continuation of the camp beyond July 1, however, will depend upon the amount of money appropriated by congress for emergency conservation work during the coming fiscal year.

Enrollees from the 82 camps to be abandoned will be transferred to camps which are to remain in operation. As a result of this move it is probable that the enrolled strength of the San Clemente camp will be increased.

Detailed plans for work to be carried on during the next period now are being drafted by the National Park service which has supervision of the camp.

FLAHERTY WILL BE AREA ENVOY TO SACRAMENTO

Outstanding features of the 1937 legislative program of the Orange County Farm Bureau, which pertain especially to agricultural interests of this district, will be discussed tomorrow and Wednesday by R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the local bureau, with members of the board of governors of the California Farm Bureau Federation in Sacramento.

Flaherty will leave this city this evening for the capital city, and after a series of conferences there, he will go to the San Francisco office of the federation, and then return to Santa Ana.

Stand Is Clear
Flaherty pointed out before his departure that the bureau's legislative program covers a wide range of problems, "many of which are vitally important to growers of Orange county and Southern California."

"We have gone at lengths in the last several weeks to make our stand clear on most of the measures," Flaherty explained, "and now we are prepared to open the drive to obtain enactment of bills that will mean much to the future of the industry."

ORCHESTRA IS SELECTED FOR SATURDAY BALL

Engagement of "Sunny" Brooks, of Hollywood, and his orchestra to play for the Orange County Peace officers' Annual ball, was announced today by Lee Mann, chairman of arrangements for the affair. The ball will be held the night of March 13, in Valencia ballroom, on Highway 101.

Brooks and his group of musicians have an outstanding reputation in the film city where they have played at many of the most exclusive night clubs, in addition to entertaining at private parties for many of the best known motion picture stars. Recently the group completed an engagement with Universal films where they played for the Virginia Bruce picture, "When Love Is Young."

Practically every musician in the orchestra is an entertainer and presents specialty numbers during the program.

In connection with the "Personality Contest" being conducted in connection with the ball, Mann said that while many candidates have already entered the competition, enrollments will continue to be taken until March 10. Young men or women desiring to enter the contest which will accord the winner a screen test and possible film contract, must enroll at the Blu-Note Music company, 420 West Fourth street, he said.

BAND LEADER

"Sunny" Brooks, who will bring his Hollywood orchestra to Orange county the night of March 13, to play for the Orange County Peace Officers' Annual Benefit ball.

WATER TO POUR OVER SPILLWAY IN TWO WEEKS

Rising at the rate of three inches a day, the water behind Santiago dam will start pouring over the spillway within possibly the next fortnight, it appeared today. It now stands at a level about 18 inches short of the brim, and still is being fed from the watershed above, via Santiago creek.

Since the rate of rise is beginning to taper off, according to C. B. Redmon, caretaker of the big dam for the Irvine Company and the Carpenter and Serrano Water companies, the overflow may be deferred a few days, but there is no doubt, he said, that it will start spilling before the time comes to tap its store for irrigation purposes.

The unwanted spectacle of so large a body of water in Orange county continues to draw curious throngs to the dam. The road leading from Irvine park to the dam is blocked by a locked gate a short distance below the structure. Visitors blithely disregard the "keep out" sign on the gate and shimmy over it, to walk the remaining stretch to the top of the dam.

Here they find a lake 3 1/2 miles long and 108 feet deep at the tower; probably deeper in some of the barrow pits left when the reservoir was being excavated. The water in Orange county's first "lake" stretches far into the distance up Santiago canyon, and edges into Limestone and other side canyons.

Oldtimers who used to roost on Man Cow rock still are unable to quite believe there is really that much water in the country. In the past several years, since the dam was built, it has gathered a fair amount of water, but this is the first time it has been filled. Two rousing rain storms in late January and early February, each contributing eight or nine inches of rainfall, did it.

U. S. Legation Is Built On Summit

MONROVIA, Liberia, (UP) — Work is under way on a new $500,000 United States legation building under direction of Lester A. Walton, U. S. minister to Liberia.

The building is being built on the summit of a cape extending into the Atlantic and will face the ocean. Weeks of dynamiting were necessary to level huge boulders on the rocky site. Soil was then spread so that trees and flowers may grow.

The legation will be about half a mile from the British legation, which stands on the south shore of the cape. The cape is the coolest part of Monrovia but had never before been used for dwellings because of its rugged state.

Pair of Fair (No Pun) Queens

A pair of fair queens, whose business it is to promote international exhibitions and such, got together in San Francisco when Fern Arnold, left, met Mademoiselle Charpin. Miss Arnold is the "pirate motif" of the San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition, to be held in '39, and Mademoiselle Charpin is the "Queen of Queens" of the Paris International Exposition.

FIELD LEADER OF RED CROSS IS VISITOR HERE

Double-edge in its character, a plan to keep alive the machinery which was responsible "for the wonderfully efficient work of the four Orange county chapters, The American Red Cross, in behalf of flood sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys," was in full swing in Santa Ana and the entire county today.

So declared Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange County Council, today following a visit to the city of Mrs. Esther Chadbourne, national field representative of the Red Cross for Southern California.

"The main purpose of the plan," Mrs. Warren explained, "will be to develop a better understanding of the function of each chapter and branch of the organization in the event of another major disaster."

One of the parts of the plan will be an annual Good Will Day, including a special luncheon and program, and the other, an annual Disaster Relief Dinner, to which all agencies of the various cities and towns throughout the county, which normally would have responsibilities in case of disaster, would be invited. The committees of the American Legion and other organizations, would join in this affair.

Tentative plans for the first of the dinners, the date for which will be set in the near future, calls for the appearance of A. L. Schafer, manager of the Pacific Division office of the national organization, as one of the principal speakers.

Mr. John Wehrly, newly re-elected chairman of the Santa Ana chapter, will be master of ceremonies for the occasion.

CHURCH PLANS MISSIONS DAY

This Sunday is Foreign Missions day in the United Brethren church, and the local church, at West Third and Shelton streets, will observe it in a special way.

The Foreign Missionary society of the denomination has furnished special bulletins which will be used. The choir will render the anthem, "A Living Flame," in the morning service. The pastor's sermon topic will be, "The Church's World Charter."

In the evening service at 7 o'clock there will be presented nine living pictures of the life and service of David Livingstone, the great missionary to Africa. Mrs. Ethel Johnson will be in charge of the program, and will make the announcement and explanation of the favorite hymn of David Livingstone, "Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee," which will be sung by Helen Gamble, Marjorie Johnson, Donald Gamble, and Glenn Johnson. Glenn Johnson will also sing as a solo number, "A Little Bit of Love," and Helen Whitley and Marjorie

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 50c.

PET TALKS

By MRS. T. J. NEAL

Rabies is uncommon in cats. Very seldom do we hear of a cat going mad. Rats are carriers of the disease.

"Hobo" was just a mongrel dog in Union City, New Jersey. He was a friend to every one and was called the city's mascot. Hobo died just recently at the age of 18 years. In honor of this dog, Union City is erecting a drinking fountain designed for the use of dogs, on the grounds of the high school, where Hobo is buried.

This is nesting time for caged canaries. Egg shells, toasted very brown and pulverized, should be given daily. This provides the proper lime and insures against soft-shelled eggs.

To my notion, Pekingese puppies are the prettiest of toy breeds. At about six weeks of age their faces look like pansies and seem to beam with devotion and gladness every second. As a breed they are self-willed and usually very strong.

If cats are fed liver or kidney more than twice a week, their breath usually become offensive.

Puppies to be given to good homes as follows: part Dachs-hund, phone 3627J after 5 p. m.; Fox Terrier, phone 1091J; a nice year old part Boston female, phone Anaheim 28207.

All breeders of dogs should be vitally interested in their local humane society. The Orange County Humane society has called a meeting for tomorrow night and breeders, fanciers or anyone interested in the welfare of animals are urged to attend. Particulars will be given in another part of this paper.

Orangethorpe P. T. A. Names New Officers

ORANGETHORPE, March 8.—Mrs. J. B. Christensen was nominated as president of the Orangethorpe P. T. A. at the "Fathers' night" meeting held at the school Friday evening. Other officers selected were Mrs. A. Kadelbach, vice-president; Mrs. Leone Sedan, secretary; Mrs. A. A. Kiser, treasurer; Mrs. T. E. Wilson, parliamentarian and Mrs. E. F. Harmon, historian.

Entertainment included a one-act play by students of Fullerton high school, Barbara Berger, Barbara Stillman, Stanley Johnson, and William Wickett. Also on the program were a talk on safety by Captain H. C. Meahan and community singing under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Spizy of Santa Ana. Fathers who were in charge of the meeting included F. T. Chamberlain, chairman; J. Queyrel, P. J. Hiltcher, E. F. Harmon, W. C. Nieman and T. E. Wilson.

Johnson will sing as a duet, "Speed Away."

Mrs. Johnson will also explain the use of the 121st Psalm which was read in the Livingstone home the morning he left for Africa. The psalm will be read by Janet Bates. Mrs. Lora McNeal will read the description of each of the nine pictures as they are presented. The characters who will appear in the pictures are: David Livingstone, G. P. Fryatt; Livingstone's trusted servant, Susi; Charles Imm; Chuma, T. A. Duncan; African woman, Mrs. Myrtle Dannie; African child, Shirley Lou Williams; African boy, Earl McCullough; four African men, Bill Milligan, Melvin Barron, O. C. Dannie and Biney Mustard.

An offering for Foreign Missions will be received.

SALESMAN LIKES WARM JAIL CLEVELAND (UP)—Harold Smith, 43-year-old Coshocton, O., shoe salesman, appeared in court and asked to be returned to the jail cell from which he had been released only a few days before.

"It's cold and miserable outside and I can't find a job," Smith told the judge. "I didn't want to stay at a hotel, because Your Honor placed me on probation only last week for owing a hotel $28." Smith got cell-space.

BAR GROUP TO TAKE UP F D R COURT PLANS

Consideration of President Roosevelt's proposal to add six additional Justices to the United States Supreme Court, together with possible action on the question, will be one of the most important features at a special dinner meeting of the Orange County Bar Association at 6:30 p. m. Friday at the Green Cat Cafe here.

George A. Parker, secretary of the organization, said this morning he had sent notices to all members, urging them to attend and participate in the special program. Officials of the organization pointed out that the call for the meeting was sent out as the result of action of the board of governors of the state bar association, and the executive committee of the Conference of Bar Association Delegates. The two groups have asked that action of the Supreme Court proposal be taken by each unit.

Parker said also that there would be a discussion at the same meeting, of the report on the recent plebiscite relative to the reduction in number of judicial townships in Orange county to two, one on each side of the Santa Ana river.

According to estimates, nearly 1,500,000 persons in England suffer from insomnia.

A fact of interest to smokers: Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE — SMOKE CAMELS

YALE BASKETBALL COACH DEFENDS ZONE SYSTEM

Ken Loeffler of Yale suspects that George Keogan of Notre Dame had an ulterior motive in attacking the zone defense at a New York basketball forum.

"The reason that some coaches are so dead against it is that they go out and get the fastest and best players," says Loeffler, whose success at Geneva took him to New Haven. "If some of the other teams were forced to try to chase them the result would be obvious."

Loeffler asserts that he is not defending the zone, but just attempting to show that its more vociferous foes are not so mindful of the public interest as they like to appear.

Loeffler agrees with Keogan that the zone defense is responsible for the bulk of slow, uninteresting competition, but stresses the point that the first thing to be considered in planning any system of defense is the type of material.

Keogan blames the zone defense for taking away opportunity for skillful individual effort.

"The zone defense is the easiest to teach," recites Keogan. "That's why so many employ it. The zone is the subterfuge by which a man who cannot teach man-to-man guarding covers up his shortcomings. A boy who has played nothing but zone defense emerges from college with no knowledge of the fundamental principles of guarding."

"Any fast ball handling team, any intelligent team can riddle the zone because of the undeniable fact that you can pass a ball faster than you can shift your position."

Loeffler replies: "If your material is not fast, it is a sure bet that you will not want to chase the opponents in a tag defense, not unless you are a believer in the saying that more than half of life's happiness is in the pursuit, and not in realization."

"If the men are tall, even though slow, that fact enhances the value of the zone defense, the reason being obvious. If the men are short, the zone is desirable because running distances are limited to the zone each man defends."

"If you have little offensive strength, the zone very often enables your players to dash down the floor into the offense before opponents get back on defense."

"If there is no wealth of substitute material the zone is desirable because under this system there is less fouling. The men play the ball instead of the man and consequently there is less contact. There is more opportunity for stealing the ball and interceptions because the player on the defense can take more chances."

Keogan declares that when the 10-second rule was put into the book by advocates of the zone defense, he predicted that it would be the incubator from which would spring the zone defense in all parts of the country.

SET SHOT CONTEST

The 10-second rule and three-second foul lane and circle restriction on the pivot undoubtedly strengthened the position of the zone defense, but, as Loeffler explains, before the adoption the question arose whether the use of the zone was contrary to the spirit of the game.

It makes the game a stationary set shot contest rather than a running game with possible dash lay-up shots.

"Some coaches blessed with ample talent have adopted the zone defense to offset the cross-screening offenses that have been legalized in the last few years," concludes Loeffler. "Screening generally is ineffective against a zone defense."

"If you can match the opposition physically, the man-for-man defense unquestionably is the superior. A man always is near his opponent for shot prevention unless he has allowed himself to be blocked off, which shifting should have averted."

Nat Holman of College of City of New York calls the zone defense a cancerous growth eating at the roots of the game, but there are two sides to every story.

As Loeffler points out, so long as some coaches must work with slower material there will continue to be zone defenses unless the rule-makers decree otherwise.

SKARDA, MEHRINGER Tustin To Play San Diego

S. A. GOLFERS RUN PAR, NAB LEAD IN RACE

League Standings
Santa Ana 48 1/2 points
Red Hills 39 points
Redlands 24 points
Mountain Meadows 7 points

"It was the finest shooting any of our teams have ever done in their Southern California Golf association matches."

Thus did Team Captain Garland C. Ross comment today on the brilliant victory—16 1/2 points to 4 1/2—that the Santa Ana Country club scored over Red Hills here Sunday.

The smashing win catapulted the Santa Anas into first place in their division as the first-half of their season came to an end. They have three more matches—two on the road.

"We won the Southern California championship one year and were runners-up once but never had one of our teams played so well as against Red Hills," Dr. Ross declared.

Dick Ewert and Jack Robertson had eight birdies in their No. 1 match, trimming the powerful Red Hills combination of Cliff Little and Veeder South, 2 1/2 to 1/2. Ewert posted a par 72, Robertson a 73. Their best-ball was 66, as was that of Eddie Holmes and Bill Foote who won three points in the No. 2 assignment. Foote shot a 72, Holmes a 74.

A. W. Robinson and Ted Burkett had a best-ball of 72, and the other Santa Ana units all had 75's. Individual scores included 74's by Burkett and Homer Robinson, and 75's by Ray Chapman, Harold Wright, Warren Fletcher.

The summary:
Jack Robertson and Dick Ewert (SA) 2 1/2 points; Cliff Little and Veeder South (RH) 1/2;
W. W. Foote and Ed Holmes Jr. (SA) 3; Jerry Dowden and A. O. Allen (RH) 0;
A. W. Robinson and Ted Burkett (SA) 1/2; C. C. Denio and Cawsey (RH) 2 1/2;
Warren Fletcher and Ben Manker (SA) 2 1/2; Bergstrom and Drummond (RH) 1/2;
Ray Chapman and Harold S. Wright (SA) 3; Hungerford and Condit (RH) 0;
Elmer Curry and Homer Robinson (SA) 2; Wasserman and Powell (RH) 1;
Warren Fletcher and Ralph Gray (SA) 3; Duncan and Dickens (RH) 0.

SAINTS EYE 'B' RELAY RECORD

Tuning up for their first Coast league dual meet in San Diego Friday, Coach "Pinkie" Greene's Santa Ana high school trackmen swing into a three-cornered competition with Garden Grove and Laguna Beach here tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Highlight of the day will be an attempt by the speedy Santa Ana Class B relay quartet to break the all-time school "B" record of 1 min. 12.7 sec. for the medley distance—660 yards.

Greene has assigned Worth and Howard Elliott to the 110-yard laps and will send Wayne Piper and Jerome Duffy over the 220 routes. The school standard was set last season by "Doc" Lutz, Herschel Whitney, Dwight Nott and Dearing Waggener.

Performances against Laguna and Garden Grove will decide Santa Ana's lineup against San Diego, according to Coach Greene. The Artists and Argonauts have some outstanding tracksters this year and figure to extend the Saints no little.

SCHOOLGIRL GOLFER DEL MONTE WINNER

DEL MONTE, March 8.—Clara Callender, Pacific Grove high school girl and persistent winner of Monterey peninsula golf laurels, added the Pebble Beach women's championship trophy to her collection today for the first time.

The sure-stroking schoolgirl defeated Marion Hollins, once National and three times Pebble Beach champion, 4 and 2, in their 36-hole final match at Pebble Beach yesterday.

COMEBACK GOES AWAY

Max Baer, planning a comeback, outpointed a flock of process servers in a legal skirmish with Madison Square Garden as he sailed for a fight in England. The Garden, trying to hold Maxie to a contract to fight Bob Pastor March 19, stationed process servers at every gangplank of the liner on which Maxie had booked passage. Maxie, left, and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, who are playing peekaboo through a porthole here, fooled them by sneaking through the freight entrance.

Japanese Golfer Becomes Champion Of Willowick

A doughty Japanese golfer, K. Muroka, became champion of the Willowick Golf club today after trouncing Clarence Stillings, one up, on the twenty-second hole of a n-and-tuck final round Sunday.

Muroka, onetime Sacramento valley title, took an 80 to Stillings' 79, but the Japanese snared the deciding hole.

C. E. Brisco won the championship of the second flight by defeating Ray Burbank, one up.

Ray Echols eliminated W. M. Burke, 4 and 3, in the defeated eighth of the second flight.

McLemore Returns In Time To Cover Bowling Tourney

NEW YORK, March 8.—(UP)—I don't know where the man learned of my arrival in New York—unless it was the police who tipped him—but I had not been off to Florida special half-hour before Senor Francis Albertanti had my secretary on the phone and getting me on the phone, because I serve as my own secretary and was telling him (me) how glad he was I had returned to cover the National Bowling Congress, which opens Wednesday.

I told Senor Albertanti I had not returned for any sort of congress, but merely to have my annual haircut and to have my annual fitting at my glove-makers. I told him further that Wednesday was the day I would be fitted for raccoon mittens (long a favorite of mine), and still further that I knew absolutely nothing about bowling.

"You don't!" he exclaimed. "No, absolutely nothing," I repeated, and hung up, thinking that ended that.

But I was mistaken. Within an hour my messenger boy, laden after the manner of an Andalusian donkey, arrived at my address. He was laden with literature on bowling. There were tons of it, it seemed. In volume it made Dr. Eliot's five-foot shelf appear as nothing more than a vest pocket memo pad. Figuring that any sport which could command such an output was worth knowing about, I slipped on my reading glasses, turned on my reading lamp, threw another log on the fire, and settled down.

I can't begin to tell you all I learned, because the history of bowling is a long one. It is an ancient sport, and if some of the chroniclers are to be believed was

BASEBALL

(By United Press)
PASADENA.—The Chicago White Sox will plunge into heavy duty practice tomorrow afternoon when infielders and outfielders are scheduled to report to camp. Manager Jimmy Dykes said he was concerned about only one holdout, that of pitcher Merritt (Sugar) Cain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio and "Red" Ruffing—all holdouts—were the only World Champions New York Yankees not in training camp today for the second week workout. Infielders Crosetti, Rolfe and Saltzgaver and Outfielder Ernie Koy arrived yesterday.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Fifteen pitchers and four catchers reported for practice yesterday, the first time in years no batteryman has been tardy at the Detroit Tigers' training camp.

ORLANDO, Fla.—A verbal renewal of Buck Newsum's long distance hold-out battle was expected today with rival of the ace Washington pitcher to confer with Owner Clark Griffith.

HAVANA.—New York Giant players were allowed to ease up a trifle in training today after turning in their first victory of the season against a professional team yesterday. After going scoreless for 20 consecutive innings against Cuban "pro" the Giants unslashed a seven run attack in the fifth inning to defeat the Almendares nine, 7 to 3.

TILLERS COME FROM BEHIND, NISK POMONA

Tustin (Orange league) vs. San Diego (Coast league) at 7:30 p. m.; Whittier (Pomona league) vs. Beverly Hills (Bay league) at 9.

Those are the teams still left in the playoffs for the Southern California prep basketball championship, and that is the way they'll meet in Friday's semi-finals in Whittier's high school gymnasium.

The finals will be played Saturday night at the same place.

Coach Bill Cole's tolling Tillers had to reach deep into their bag of tricks to turn back Pomona, champions of the Citrus Belt league, in a quarter-final contest at Tustin.

The score was 23 to 20, and Tustin had to come from behind in the fourth quarter to win. This was a new experience to Pomona which has been capturing most of its games this season with Garrison finishes.

As in many other Tustin contests, Center Sammy Francis dropped in the pay-off points. His basket tied the score at 20-20 in the final period. His free throw gave the Tillers a one-point edge; another Francis basket assured the Coleman of victory.

The Farmers were in front, 6-2, at the first quarter mark, the result of successive field goals by Millard Foster, Sam Francis and Walt Linker.

At the half the tables were turned, Pomona moving into a 13-12 lead which it increased to 19-14 midway in the third quarter. Successive baskets by Sam Francis and Larry Monroy brought the score up to 19-18. A free throw by "Red" Hill, Pomona guard, gave the visitors a two-point margin, but it was shortly gobbled up by another Francis basket.

Francis was the only Farmer to score more than two points, his 13 being good for high point honors over Morse, Pomona center.

The lineup:
Tustin (23) (20) Pomona
P. Francis (2) (2) Thomas
L. Linker (13) (6) Morse
M. Monroy (9) (4) Hill
W. Linker (2) (4) Duran
Substitutions: Tustin—M. Foster, Pomona—Anderson, Wallace, Donhoff.

Dons Open Dual Meet Schedule At Riverside Fri.

Facing certain defeat unless they show great improvement in the next few days, Santa Ana junior college's tracksters buckled down today to the task of preparing for their first Eastern conference dual meet at Riverside Friday.

The Dons go to Bovard field, Los Angeles, the following Tuesday for a four-way meet with the U.S.C. Frosh, Pomona and Chaffey also sending teams.

None of the Santa Anas showed much in the Southern Pacific A.A.U. Relays at Long Beach Saturday.

Bill Greshner stepped out of the ring on all his attempts but Ray Coley, the other Don shot putter, had a fair toss of 41 feet 3 inches.

Coach Bill Cook was better pleased with the performance of his relay team in the four-man mile. The Dons didn't place but did give a good account of themselves.

Dave Clark ran the first lap in 55.4 sec. Hal Eastman was caught in 54.7 sec. Tommy Sullivan 54.4 sec. and Walter Opp in 53.7 sec. It was the first time any of these men had run a full 440 in competition this season.

Lee Huhn, Elson Gaebie and Blas Mercurio failed to place in the high jump. Huhn cleared 5:10, the best jump. Willard Lutton again defeated his team-mate, Cameron Gillis, with a 21:3 broad jump, but failed to place.

Competing unattached, Former Don Jim Noe won the class B pole vault after tying seven entrants at 12 feet.

THREE CAGE TEAMS TIE IN FAR NORTH

SEATTLE, March 8.—(UP)—Athletic directors and graduate managers of the University of Washington, University of Oregon and Washington State college, whose basketball teams finished in an unprecedented tie for the Northern division Pacific Coast conference championship, met today to formulate plans for the play-off.

A tentative plan worked out by Ray Eckmann, Washington athletic director, and Anse Cornell, Oregon graduate manager, called for a drawing with the losers to meet Friday or Saturday, and the winner to play the "bye" team the next Monday.

Earl Foster, W. S. C. graduate manager, was understood to be in partial accord with the plan.

Site of the play-off for the right to meet Stanford, Southern division winner, for the coast title was the stumbling block. Eckmann wanted the games played on the Washington pavilion, but Coach Howard Hobson of Oregon insisted the series be played in Eugene.

'Fools-Errand' Costs Don Ruggers $20

Rugby players of Santa Ana junior college wondered today how they were going to be reimbursed the $20 it cost them to travel to the Los Angeles Coliseum on a "fools-errand" last Saturday.

The Dons were supposed to play the U.S.C. Spartans in a preliminary to the Trojan-U.C.L.A. varsity game but when they got to the field found that the Spartans had decided not to play. None of the Santa Ana officials were notified of the cancellation.

Santa Ana rugby followers will get a chance to see the Dons in action Friday night at the Municipal Bowl when they tangle with the strong Hollywood Athletic club fifteen.

Coach Ernest Butterworth has his team playing a wide-open game patterned after Canadian rugby.

SWITCH SAINT BATTING ORDER

Dissatisfied with results so far, Coach Joe Koegler today worked on a new batting order for Santa Ana high school's baseball team.

The switch will be tried out here tomorrow when the Saints oppose Anaheim at Poly field at 3 p. m. Koegler isn't exactly sure how he'll line up the swingers yet but drastic changes are contemplated.

Tommy Wilkins, brother of last year's star gunner, will be on the knoll against Anaheim, so Joe Ortega probably will get the call at Whittier Friday.

Coach Koegler says he'll give Outfielder Jack McClure, last year's first baseman, a chance as a pitcher soon and may use him against Whittier.

No changes are anticipated in the lineup with Ben Ryland catching Wilkins, Gene O'Campo at first base, Mitsuo Nitta on second, Ortega third, Pete Partida at short, and Jim Wendorf, Ernie Barreitt and Jack McClure in left, center and right field, respectively.

One of the biggest and greatest scientific wrestlers in the game, powerful, determined Hans Steinke, the German oak, returns to meet Casey Berger in a one-fall special. Paul Beesch, handsome New Yorker, who hasn't appeared hereabouts since he and Ivan Manna-goff teamed up on "Man Mountain" Dean, opens the show against a newcomer, "Bull" Martin, Southern rougher.

The first bout is scheduled at 8:30.

INSIST CALIENTE TO REOPEN IN 40 DAYS

SAN DIEGO, March 8.—(UP) Gene Normile, representing a syndicate planning to reopen the swank Agua Caliente race track, announced today men will start work this week reconditioning the track and renovating buildings in preparation for an opening "within 20 to 40 days."

After an inspection of the track, Normile said "workmen will be put to work not later than Thursday."

Normile refused to name those associated with him in the syndicate but said it would be known as the Agua Caliente Turf club and an "outstanding Hollywood man" will be president.

Normile said he had signed a contract providing for a "lease-purchase" of track buildings from the City of Mexico, Mexican labor union, which was control of them in litigation over wage claims after Agua Caliente was closed in 1935 following President Lázaro Cardenas' ban on gambling. He also said that the Mexican government had issued a permit to the syndicate for racing.

In Tijuana, however, one labor group was reported attempting to block plans to reopen the track. Antonio Gonzalez, representative of the Hippodrome Workers' union, denied that a contract had been signed with an American syndicate.

Normile and his attorney, John Holt, said they believed the contract which they held was valid and said plans for reopening the track would continue. Horsemen have entries ran at Santa Anita since the track reopened, Normile said, and many will enter their horses at the border track. The races will be operated with pari-mutuel betting but there will be no other forms of gambling, he said.

Walter Hagen, four times captain of the United States Ryder Cup golf team, will be non-playing captain this year, George Jacobus, professional golfers association president, said today.

Ryder Cup matches are scheduled at the Southport and Ainsdale courses at Southport, Eng., June 29 and 30.

Ryder Cup matches are scheduled at the Southport and Ainsdale courses at Southport, Eng., June 29 and 30.

Tonight—Double Main Event!

WRESTLING

Pete Mehringer vs. Rudy Skarda
Dr. Lee Hall vs. Abe Yourist

Steinke vs. Berger Martin vs. Boesch
ORANGE COUNTY ATHLETIC CLUB

THIRD MATCH TO END FEUD: STEINKE HERE

For the third time in as many weeks, Rudy Skarda, the flying Finn who has wrestled against Jim London, Danne O'Mahoney and other former champions, will attempt to block out the flying tackle and rapid fire action of Pete Mehringer, former All-American football player, here tonight.

Two weeks ago Skarda and Mehringer battled to a hectic 30-minute draw. Last week Pete scored a questionable decision in a 45-minute encounter. Now they are scheduled to travel the full one-hour route, two-out-of-three falls, in the closing hour of a double main event at the Orange County Athletic club.

The preceding battle brings out Dr. Len Hall, undefeated here, against Abe Yourist, whose only set-back resulted when he gave away 100 pounds, and faced Berg Morgan as a last minute substitute. Although Morgan won, Yourist was given the cheers. He forced the bearded goolith to resort to illegal tactics in order to retain his unblemished record.

Yourist and Dr. Hall also are billed for two out of three falls, and while the Mehringer-Skarda rematch, because it twice proved sizzling, is looked on as the main lure, Dr. Hall and Yourist could set a pace that will make the third and final battle between Skarda and Mehringer appear slow in comparison.

One of the biggest and greatest scientific wrestlers in the game, powerful, determined Hans Steinke, the German oak, returns to meet Casey Berger in a one-fall special. Paul Beesch, handsome New Yorker, who hasn't appeared hereabouts since he and Ivan Manna-goff teamed up on "Man Mountain" Dean, opens the show against a newcomer, "Bull" Martin, Southern rougher.

The first bout is scheduled at 8:30.

AT THE TRACKS

By TOM GWYNNE (Special Register Correspondent)

They're toasting a new champion today—Seabiscuit!

In a breath-taking performance which easily overshadowed Rosemont's triumph in the $100,000 stake, Seabiscuit thrilled 45,000 cheering racers as he crushed his rivals under a stinging defeat.

Seabiscuit, owned by Charles S. Howard of San Francisco, will enter for Tantorian today with the other Howard horses and will be pointed for the $10,000 added Marchbank Handicap—major fixture of the northern season.

He proved himself a real champion and may rule the stake division on the American turf this year. Certainly, he will run Rosemont dizzy if ever they hook up again.

The race was truly and cleanly run. None of the other horses had any excuses—except they were up against too much horse.

Grand Mantou's performance marked the first success yet enjoyed by one of the "international flavor" thoroughbreds. The French horse, carrying the silks of Raoul Walsh of Hollywood, made a game stretch bid to down Special Agent.

The third Santa Anita season goes into the records as the most phenomenal ever held in the annals of the American turf. The total "handle" for the 55 days, including the two special city days, was $30,067,440 or a daily average of $546,680.

With perfect weather prevailing, the fourth "million dollar" day of the meeting was written into the books. The staggering sum of $1,322,623 was wagered and there was plenty shut out.

The third Santa Anita season goes into the records as the most phenomenal ever held in the annals of the American turf. The total "handle" for the 55 days, including the two special city days, was $30,067,440 or a daily average of $546,680.

Polard was easing his mount at the wire and raising up in the stirrups as they crossed the wire for a new track record which undoubtedly is the finest mile and one eighth in the record books.

Indian Broom blazed out the world's record last spring of 1:47 2-5 but he did it with the feathery right field with John (Moose) Clabaugh in left. Clabaugh is a .330 hitter. Nino Bongiovanni handles the important center field patrol. He is an excellent lead-off man; can field long drives and has a strong arm.

Portland fortified this trio of left-handed hitters by getting Wes Schumacher, potent right-handed slugger, from Los Angeles in a trade for "Goldie" Holt.

Schumacher lives at Hillsboro, Ore.—is delighted to play for Portland. He may be the spark to fire the Beavers this year. His clowning brought many laughs around the circuit last year. Sweeney also will keep Steve Coscarart, hold-over from last year, giving the Ducks five outfielders.

Sweeney at first, Pete Coscarart at second, Dud Lee at short and Fred Bedore at third will again be the inner defense. Sweeney and Bedore are extra base hitters and good workmen. Lee's aging muscles took new life last year and he had a fine year. If he repeats shortstop will be capably handled. Coscarart appears as a certain major league prospect.

John Burnett and Harvey Storey are reserve infielders.

40 MOTORISTS TICKETED BY LOCAL POLICE

Forty persons were ticketed Saturday night and yesterday by Santa Ana police who charged them with speeding or failure to make boulevard stops, records revealed today.

With a campaign being waged by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and his men to make Santa Ana streets more safe, motorists were asked to observe the speed zones and to use more care in the matter of jumping boulevard stops.

"We are going to include among tickets given out, some for minor children and their parents, where the child is permitted to drive a car without a driver's license," the chief declared. "That means the child will be ticketed for violation of vehicle code section 250-a, requiring operator's license, and parents will be ticketed for violation of section 333 which states that parents shall not give permission to an unlicensed minor, to drive a car."

Chief Howard pointed to the death of L. A. Sherman, 78-year-old Santa Ana man, in traffic last week, as emphasizing the need for more care by motorists and pedestrians here. Mr. Sherman was so badly injured when struck by an automobile, he died a few minutes later.

Motorists are required to stay within the 15-mile school zone limit; the 20-mile business zone limit, and the 25-mile residential zone limit, according to the rules set down by the police department. The rules coincide with the rules of the state vehicle code.

CIVIC PLAYERS ARE GUESTS AT PARTY

Community Players closed their production of the Oscar Wilde comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest" with a successful performance Saturday night in Elwell auditorium, where a large audience greeted the cast in its final appearance.

Music between acts was furnished by the Santa Ana Symphony under direction of Elwood Bear, and the musical numbers were as well received as were those of the opening night when Bear had presented his Senior Violin Ensemble.

To conclude the Saturday night performance, members of the cast were complimented at an after-theater party in the clubhouse kitchen where coffee and cake were served. It is probable that when the Santa Ana Players give their exchange program for Modern Mummies of San Bernardino, they will choose one of the hilarious acts from the Wilde play rather than the one-act that had been planned.

Y M C A WILL DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

The safety committee of the Young Men's division of the chamber of commerce will open its campaign, Wednesday at 4 p. m., to make the highways in Orange county safe.

The group, under leadership of John Henderson, chairman, will hold its first meeting in the chamber of commerce.

Members of the committee, other than Henderson, are William Fernandez, A. O. Hatfield, Harold Harrison, James Anderson, Curtis Burroughs and C. H. Kilewer.

Picnics and Reunions

All former residents of Michigan are included in the call to rally for the annual picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, March 20. It will be held in Sycamore Grove Park with basket picnic dinners at noon followed by the program of music and addresses.

Four western states will hold their annual picnics all day Saturday, March 13 in Sycamore Grove park. Oscar Redemann will lead the New Mexican contingent, Edgar T. Fee, Nevadans, H. P. Maxwell, the Arizona folks, and O. H. Hewlett, the Utah division. Each state will have a separate section and will open up county headquarters with registers.

ANNUAL DINNER OF BMA TO BE HELD MARCH 16

Plans have been practically completed for the annual membership meeting and banquet of the Santa Ana Business Men's association to be held the night of March 16 in Green Cat cafe, according to Phil M. Brown, secretary-manager of the organization, today.

Brown said that, as in former years, the annual meeting of the organization will be devoted, generally, to entertainment. The business session will be confined to a brief report by the secretary covering activities of the group during the past year.

Plummer Bruns, recently elected president of the association, will preside during the dinner and Jerry Hall will serve as master-of-ceremonies. Invitations to attend the dinner have been extended prominent city and county officials, Brown said.

Music during the dinner will be provided by the Ruth Armstrong instrumental trio.

Rodney Bacon, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced today that one of radio's outstanding women entertainers has been obtained to present the major program feature. He declined to announce the name of the artist, saying that this part of the program will be a complete surprise to all members of the organization.

In addition to the radio entertainer the Golden State Saxophone Sextette will appear on the program and play a group of selections.

MINERS BACK AT WORK

ELY, Nev., March 8.—(UP)—Forty miners returned to work in the Nevada Standard mine at Cherry Creek, 40 miles north of Ely, this morning, their two-day strike ended. Settlement of the walkout came after a weekend conference between H. L. Miles, international representative of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' union from Salt Lake, and W. J. Walker, representing the mine owners.

Police News

Edward Mendez, 1822 West First, Santa Ana, reported to city police Saturday, that someone had stolen his pay check while he was in an East Fourth street eating place. He asked assistance in recovering the check.

Alonzo Kidd, 47, Negro transient, was jailed this morning by Sheriff Logan Jackson and Deputy James Workman on a vagrancy charge. He is being investigated in connection with a report by Mrs. S. R. Fitz of West Chapman avenue, Orange, that a tall Negro found in her home last week, escaped after asking if the "boss" was at home, and being told he was.

William Alexander, 23, transient from Detroit, was jailed by Chief John Stanton of Tustin police yesterday, and charged with vagrancy.

Charged with disturbing the peace of Placentia, Richard Ochoa, 32, of Placentia, was jailed here last night. Placentia officers also arrested Percy Munoz, 28, Los Angeles, and charged him with petty theft today.

Someone driving by his home last night hurled a bottle which broke a window, Stanley Carrillo, 402 Central, Delhi, told police. Carrillo believed the bottle was hurled from a car containing two men and a woman.

George Doss, 408 Orange avenue, who said he was riding a service cycle, motorized bicycle, Saturday, complained to police that an unidentified man, 20 or 22 years, old weighing 165 pounds, wearing blue sweater and driving Ford coupe, beckoned him to stop as though wishing to see the cycle then struck him in the face several times and disappeared. Police are investigating.

Misceants Saturday "borrowed" an automobile belonging to Publisher R. C. Hollis of The Register and, apparently, after a 100-mile ride, returned it to the Santa Ana Country club, where it had been parked. The publisher said he would no longer leave keys in the car while it is parked. "Such a practice, of leaving the keys in one's automobile, is too tempting for those inclined to be dishonest," Hollis stated.

WORK STARTED ON TANKER AND LINER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—(UP)—Pacific coast shipping interests, confronted with a loss estimated at $2,000,000, prepared today to begin salvage operations on one vessel, continue wrecking operations on a second one and drydock a luxury liner for repairs.

The three boats, victims of disaster inside the Golden Gate, were the Dollar liner President Coolidge and the Associated Oil tanker Frank H. Buck, which collided in a dense fog almost directly under the new Golden Gate bridge Saturday, and the American-Hawaiian steamship company freighter Ohioan, which went aground last October and was gutted by fire Friday.

The Coolidge managed to limp into port after the collision with the Buck but officials said it would be necessary to drydock it to make repairs. A cash more than 30 feet wide was cut in its prow in a head-on collision with the tanker.

The tanker Buck finally was grounded, its decks almost awash, a few yards from the freighter Ohioan, which went on the rocks during a dense fog months previously. It was feared today that it would be a total loss.

BOARD HEARING IS CONTINUED TO WEDNESDAY

With oral testimony completed, the Board of Equalization hearing here Saturday before Judge Franklin Cole, to hear complaints that Bob's Place, at West Orange, had sold liquor to minors, was continued to next Wednesday at the request of the defense, to permit the filing of further documentary evidence.

Attorney Loren H. Smith, representing Bob Davis, the cafe proprietor, said today that he expected to present such evidence, including refutation of the inference that the cafe was operated primarily for its business in beer and wine, rather than food. He would show, said Smith, that the food business was twice or thrice the size of the beverage business.

In presenting the defense at Saturday's hearing, Smith summoned Davis and his assistant manager, Loren White, to the witness stand. Both denied any sales of liquor to minors.

The defense points out that testimony at the hearing shows that only one witness has been produced against Davis, and that the record shows he admitted that on the day before the sale was made to him, he was at the cafe and was asked his age. It also is claimed by the defense, though not admitted by the witness, that he produced an operator's license of another person, whose age was more than 21.

It was also testified for the defense that on the next night, February 16, when the sale was made, the youth appeared with an older man, and claimed to be 21; also that the older man said he would vouch for him.

Fairchild and George Markham were fined $2 for boulevard stop jumping.

Court Notes

Hazel Morris has filed suit in superior court through Attorney Leo J. Ellis, of Anaheim, against James H. Davis and his parents, John and Theresa Davis, asking $50,000 damages for injuries she received last November 5 in Anaheim, when struck by lumber car, which passed her as she was crossing Los Angeles street between Center street and Broadway.

Home Owners Loan Corporation has brought suit in superior court against Celia Chalmers, to foreclose a $1975 mortgage against property in Santa Ana.

WORK PROGRAM ACTION URGED

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—A large group of house members today pressed for prompt action on a broad 10-point public works program to take up the lag in private industry on unemployment.

In a statement signed by 16 members, who claim they have the support of 125 members, the group asserted that the program should be financed by "equitable taxation" on the basis of "ability to pay and benefits received."

The statement proposed this program of federal works:

1. Jobs for those able and willing to work who cannot find private employment.
2. The work to be "as useful, productive and efficient" as any type of work.
3. People would be hired not because they are on relief but because they need jobs and can do them efficiently.
4. The collection of data on unemployment and opportunity for employment in private industry, which would provide means for enlarging the federal program when private industry lays off people and to reduce it when private industry rehires them.
5. Use of only valuable work projects of a prominent nature and the appropriation of reasonable funds for materials, equipment and wages.
6. Works that would enable to develop and maintain skill most likely to be demanded by private industry.
7. Federal projects to stimulate all industries.
8. Continuation of recreation, theatrical, education and fine arts projects to develop creative talents.
9. Federal funds to largely pay the cost with local sponsors contributions based on their ability to make them.
10. The program to be financed by taxation instead of on borrowed money.

MEXICAN IS JAILED AFTER KNIFE FIGHT

Ralph Carbajal, 37, La Habra, alleged user of marijuana, was jailed by Deputy Sheriff James Musick and Bob Steinberger early yesterday morning after a knife fight in the La Habra district, was slashed in the face with a knife.

Garcia named Carbajal as his assailant. No reason for the attack was given by Carbajal, who assertedly declared, "I've been to the Big House before and I don't care whether I go back or not—I hope I did a good job with that knife." Garcia is recovering.

L. A. MAN GETS POST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 8.—(UP)—Gov. Frank P. Merriam today announced the appointment of George B. Young, Los Angeles, to the chairmanship of the state emergency relief commission. Young, who has been active in relief work in Los Angeles county, succeeds Francis Carr, Redding, who resigned several weeks ago.

FIVE ARRESTED AS DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Twenty-two persons charged with being drunk and five alleged drunk drivers were jailed here over the weekend, records show.

Price D. Pruitt, 36, who told jail officials when first booked, that his name was "Dukes Dugan," was jailed on drunk driving charge by Deputy Sheriff Harvey Gulick and Ives Brown. Pruitt said he lives in Hollywood.

Others charged with drunk driving are Salvador Duarte, 38, Huntington Beach, who was involved in a traffic crash, and arrested by California highway officers; Refugio Esparrago, 31, 1632 West Second, Santa Ana, arrested by highway patrol officers; Carlos Martinez, 44, Los Angeles, who assertedly almost ran into a Santa Ana police radio car, early this morning on Fourth street, and who was arrested by Officers Ralph Pantuso and W. B. Moreland, and Ignacio Hernandez, 26, Talbert, who assertedly was weaving his car about West Fourth in the 1400-block. Hernandez was arrested by Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and Charles Neer, early this morning.

SPENCER CASE IS POSTPONED

Today's scheduled court clash between the Security-First National Bank, of Los Angeles, as trustees for minor heirs of the late Fanny Bixby Spencer's $2,500,000 estate, and two of the principal heirs, Elizabeth Irving Bixby and Lillian Odisho Bajon, Japanese protegee of the late Costa Mesa woman, was set over until tomorrow by Superior Judge H. G. Ames, because his court already was occupied today by another case.

The two residuary heirs are objecting to payment of commissions and fees in the handling of a $50,000 trust fund for the minor heirs, and charge a conspiracy on the part of the bank, the executors, and officials of the Jotham Bixby Company, of Long Beach, to keep and exploit the $2,500,000 estate for themselves, on the pretense of benevolent care of a $50,000 trust fund for the minor heirs.

SEEKS WRIT TO CURB REFINING PLANT IN H. B.

Application by the city of Seal Beach for a court restraining order against the California Refining company and the F. B. Cole Refining company, to prevent operation of an oil refinery in Seal Beach, was being heard today by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The city's application was made in connection with its cross complaint in the suit filed by the two refining companies against the city, after permit for operation had been refused.

The refineries sued for declaratory relief, asking the court to determine the respective rights in the matter; also asking an injunction against operation of the city's zoning ordinance, and claiming $10,000 damages by reason of the city's refusal to issue a permit. Of this sum, the California Refining company claimed $75,000, the Cole organization $35,000.

The refinery, belonging to the California Refining company, was in operation at a point on the Coast highway near the Pacific Electric crossing, when the city council passed a zoning ordinance last April 2. Cole leased the plant the following November without being aware of the ordinance, he states. He then obtained a temporary, 60-day permit, which expired January 10, this year. The city then refused to issue a further permit, so the suit was brought.

PARENTS PROTEST FIGHTING BY BOYS

On behalf of some small boys who, deputy sheriffs, Ezra Stanley and Walt Dungan, were informed "couldn't take it," the Rev. Mr. Zamorra of an Orange county Mexican colony, asked that officers warn residents of the colony not to incite the boys to fighting.

Going to the scene, the officers found that boxing gloves had been provided and some of the youths of the colony who were 11, 12 and 13 years old, ordered by their elders to "fight it out." Some of the children who "couldn't take it" complained to their parents and the parents complained to the Rev. Mr. Zamorra, the officers learned. The fighting was ordered postponed indefinitely.

1,000 Ready To Attend Citrus Institute

ANAHEIM SCENE TOMORROW FOR YEARLY CLASSIC

Vital issues before the citrus industry in Orange county, which will be featured on the annual Citrus Institute program tomorrow at Anaheim high school, promise to draw the largest attendance in the history of the annual classic.

This was the forecast today by Dian R. Gardner, president of the Orange county farm bureau, and C. J. Zinn, chairman of the citrus department, which is cooperating with the Agricultural Extension Service in conducting the conclave.

Distinguished Speakers

Between 1000 and 1200 growers from all parts of the local area are expected to attend and hear the discussions presented by county, state and national leaders in the industry. Growers and officials of the industry also will be on the program.

The morning session will open at 9:30 a. m., and the afternoon conference at 1:30 p. m. The conclave will recess for luncheon at 12:15 p. m.

The latest information on plans for handling frozen fruit this season, including picking, pooling, standardization, grades and marketing, will be presented by authoritative speakers, all specialists in their line.

Many growers are seeking data on the advisability of installing heaters, and under what conditions such an investment is justified. This question will be answered. The regulation of heaters to reduce smokiness, types of heaters, wind machines, handling of frosted trees, fruit inspection, shipping regulations, and many other questions of particular timeliness to local growers will be discussed.

Programs Outlined

The morning session will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the new auditorium of the Anaheim high school, with Zinn presiding. All growers and handlers of fruit are invited to attend.

The program in its final form is as follows:

"When Does It Pay to Install Orchard Heaters," by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

"Lessons Learned from the Recent and Former Freezes—Orchard Management Recommendations," by W. R. Schoonover, citrus specialist, agricultural extension service.

"Standardization Regulations in the Movement of the 1937 Citrus Crop," by D. W. Tubbs, agricultural commissioner for Orange county.

"The World Citrus Situation and Recent Horticultural Observations in India and Egypt," by Prof. R. W. Hodgson, University of California.

"Pooling and Picking Plans in Relation to Orderly Marketing," by F. F. Heydenfeldt, manager growers' service department.

"The Valencia and Lemon Marketing Outlook," by Paul S. Armstrong, general manager California Fruit Growers Exchange.

"The states can't get along without WPA aid in carrying the unemployment relief burden," six governors of industrial states in effect told President Roosevelt in a telegram sent at the conclusion of their conference in New York, where they were the guests of Governor Herbert H. Lehman. They asked for an opportunity to discuss the problem with him before curtailment of WPA was effected. Pictured at Lehman's home are, seated, left to right, Governors Henry Horner, Illinois; Herbert Lehman, New York; and Charles F. Hurley, Massachusetts; standing, Philip F. LaFollette, Wisconsin; Elmer A. Benson, Minnesota, and Robert E. Quinn, Rhode Island.

SANTA ANA SYMPHONY APPEALS TO PUPILS IN NOVEL METHOD

With the rapid approach of the spring concert by the Santa Ana Symphony Orchestra—Sunday afternoon, March 14, in the high school auditorium—one of the most interesting features in connection with preparation for the affair was revealed today.

It is an 11-page pamphlet containing suggested lessons in appreciation of the music to be presented in the concert, and which recently was distributed in the fifth and sixth grades of Santa Ana schools and to hundreds of other students.

The bulletin contains an explanation of the plan by which teachers of the fifth and sixth grades may have a number of free tickets to distribute, provided they present the lessons included in the pamphlet, or offer improvements of their own.

While the work of the orchestra is deeply appreciated and thoroughly understood by thousands of adult music lovers in Santa Ana and Orange county, the organization has taken this novel method of stimulating interest among the youth of the community.

"The Santa Ana Symphony is particularly interested in contributing to the music program in the schools," the bulletin explains. "It has much to give as well as much to gain by so doing. As a permanent civic organization, it takes pride in the growth of the city as a music center and in the development of a discriminating musical taste in the community. As a step in this direction, the Symphony is attempting to bring its concerts to the attention of and to the appreciation level of the public school pupils."

"It welcomes suggestions from all interested listeners whether in or out of school circles, and wishes at this time to express gratitude for the splendid cooperation of school teachers in preparing pupils for the concert series."

CHOIR TO SING ON ABBEY HOUR

The choir of the Salem Evangelical church of Anaheim under the direction of Ernest Elsner, will present a program of sacred music at Melrose Abbey chapel Sunday afternoon, March 7, at 3 p. m.

The Rev. Samuel E. Schrader, pastor, will assist in the service and Miss Fernie M. Hein will act as organist.

This splendid choir of 25 voices will offer the following numbers: "Ye Shall Surely Find Him" (May F. Lawrence); "The Lord of Harvest" (Fred W. Peace); "God Be Merciful" (Dudley Buck); "Oh, Rest in the Lord" (Mendelssohn-Neale); "Arrayed in White Robes" (J. Stainer); and "Evening Prayer" (E. K. Heyser).

A vocal duet will be rendered by Rosemary Harbin and Margaret Hein. Dr. C. O. Patterson will offer two tenor solos, "Calvary" (Rodney) and "Beautiful Land on High."

The general public is cordially invited to attend all Musical Memory Hour programs.

Italy has 14,313 miles of railways.

TUSTIN HOME GROUP WILL MEET TUESDAY

"A Basic Dress and Accessories" is the title of the project for members of the Tustin home department of the Orange County Farm bureau, which will meet at noon next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Robinson at 430 West Main street.

This was the announcement today of Mrs. Guy Christian, chairman of the group, who explained that all members should bring table service and a covered dish for the potluck lunch.

Cactus juice is used to clean rust in heating plants and to kill growths in city water mains.

VIC ROWLAND IS CHAIRMAN FOR JAYSEE AGENDA

Vic Rowland, president of the Associated Students at Santa Ana junior college during the first semester, will act as chairman of the fourth semi-annual Agenda for Jaysees at Glendale, March 20.

Composed of four representatives from each junior college in Southern California, the Agenda meets for the purpose of improving student government. Dr. John W. Harbeson, Pasadena junior college, is advisor for the group.

The fall Agenda was held at Santa Ana Jaysee, and representatives from several junior colleges attended. Rowland was at that time elected to head the spring Agenda.

Four local student officers will be selected to represent Santa Ana at the confab in the near future. Rowland, Betty Lee, Bob Swanson, and Tay Riggs were the local delegates at the last conference.

Question will be submitted to the chairman by representatives from the various schools concerning student government problems. Each college may submit questions for discussion, it was said.

Norman Christianson, Fullerton, and Harold Wieman, San Bernardino, are in charge of arranging the program for the Glendale meet.

The following junior colleges are expected to send delegates: Citrus, Compton, Brawley, El Centro, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Oceanside, Chaffey, Pasadena, Pomona, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Monica, and Santa Ana.

XLII

Upon an ancient Chinese wall,
A cross-eyed man stood gawd,
For bandits bad were men like mad,
To keep them out was hard.

And so he stood in entry box,
In great discomfort there,
One eye looked west, that was the best,
And one looked everywhere.

One day an awful vision scared
The Mongol from the wall,
As from the north, there sallied forth,
A dragon ten feet tall.

It gave him such a dreadful shock,
Eyes seeing such a sight,
He never stopped, and never flopped,
But ran all day and night.

PANAMA CANAL HAILED AS BOON TO ORANGE COUNTY IN EARLIER DEVELOPMENT DAYS

By JOHN NEUBAUER

Twenty-five years ago Brea became a city and Fullerton was just celebrating its 25th anniversary, but Orange county only gave these events passing notice.

Twenty-five years ago the Panama canal was the big news! Just when trouble started popping over in Europe.

From old records, now yellowing with age, it is easily seen that the people of this sector in 1912 anticipated considerable advantages from the building of the canal.

From the time of its discovery by Balboa in 1513 there has always been an air of romance about the elusive strait joining the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Ceron, the Spanish adventurer, who accompanied Balboa, first proposed the artificial waterway connecting the two oceans after spending three years in search of the non-existent strait.

Hernando Cortez, with the belief that such a connecting body of water existed between the two oceans wrote Charles V, ruler of the Holy Roman Empire and King of Spain:

"I am about to make a search for the secret strait."

King Opposed Plan

When his search also proved that there was no waterway across the isthmus, he too, suggested the building of a canal, but his plan was opposed by King Philip II of Spain.

With the increasing trade in the 19th century the building of such a waterway became more and more practical. In 1856 commissioners from the United States and Great Britain signed a treaty for the construction and operation of the Nicaragua canal.

In 1878 the Colombian government granted a concession authorizing the building of the canal and a French corporation undertook the vast task.

The entire Pacific coast rejoiced at the thought of the possibility of a shorter waterway to the east and European ports, but when the project was doomed the outlook was gloomy until the United States undertook the project.

In 1902 Congress appropriated $40,000,000 for the starter, and estimated the total construction job at $145,000,000. This was inadequate. It took $375,000,000 to build it.

It was opened on August 15, 1914.

The aspirations of the dreamers failed to materialize. Port Orange (Newport harbor) failed to materialize into a large commercial port with ships from the seven seas calling there.

Orange county remained, rather, a rural, agricultural area retaining a neighborliness it might not otherwise have had.

Had the visions of the Panama canal materialized, Newport would have taken on the appearance of any other seaport. It would undoubtedly have been dirty and smelly like most harbor towns.

Perhaps more industries would have been located here if had the harbor become a reality, but then the charm that is Orange county's would have been doomed.

It must have been for the best.

A plane being designed for the U. S. army will have a 24-cylinder engine, and 1000 horsepower. Mounted on the nose is a rapid-fire cannon that shoots through the propeller. The engine will probably weigh about 1100 pounds.

The rare Joshua tree is a member of the lily family, and grows to a height of 60 feet.

TOYMAKER WILL HELP LIBRARY

It might be because his little girl, Patricia Ann Geiger, was the first child to receive a toy at the Santa Ana Toy Loaning Library, when it opened this week that John Geiger, 621 Riverline avenue, is going to make a donation of new toys to the library, or it might be because he likes to make toys almost better than anything else.

Geiger recently invented a new toy, using the familiar rocking chair with horses, ducks or other animals on each side, a safe and enjoyable rocking horse for very young children. Geiger is making the rocking horses in miniature sizes and they are designed for the use of dolls, not for children.

He is planning to donate a number of these toys as well as a number of wooden animals to the library. Toy making has been his hobby for some years, Geiger says, and he plans some day to make it a vocation rather than an avocation.

Co-Hostesses
Base Party On Irish Holiday

With each snowy ranunculus and carnation delicately feathered with green amidst the foliage in a long and narrow silvered basket; with shamrocks scattered over the damask-spread table and with slim green tapers flickering in crystal candlesticks, Mrs. C. W. Hyde, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Jeffrey achieved a definite St. Patrick's day atmosphere for the bridge luncheon at which they were hostesses Saturday afternoon in Danvers.

Adding greatly to the springtime charm of the affair were the smart frocks of the score or more guests, with the hostesses quite as becomingly gowned. Mrs. Jeffrey was quite lovely in deep blue lace whose earth-red accents included the twist of ribbon around the crown of her wide-brimmed blue hat. Mrs. Hyde's appearance was quite as striking for she wore smart floral-printed crepe with wide-brimmed yellow straw hat in which she was so effective as mistress of ceremonies at the recent Beta Sigma style revue and tea-musical.

For Bridge Play

Contract followed the luncheon hour and the gay Irish name cards also indicated places at the card tables which were set up amidst flowering peach sprays at the southern end of the main dining room. Green and white ribbons tied the gift packages of dainty toiletries which rewarded Mrs. Henry S. Williams and Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon for first and second high scores.

Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Hyde have invitations out for a dessert bridge for next Saturday afternoon, when guests will be received in the Hyde home, 201 West Twentieth street. Their guest list at the initial party included several out-of-town friends, Mrs. Chester Brown, Mrs. C. M. Deakin, Mrs. Susan Rutherford, Mrs. G. M. Grundy and Mrs. H. E. Stahler of Balboa; Mrs. Jack Husted of Philadelphia, houseguest in the James K. Hermon home, with Mesdames James K. Hermon, D. K. Hammond, A. W. Rutan, Harry Duckett, Henry Willams, Walter Hill, Helen Anderson, Charles V. Doty, Hugh Shields, H. T. Dunning, R. C. Holmes, Sara Johnston Haddon, James Irvine, C. Mortimer Plumm, Cassius Paul, Frederick Elliott, Frank Andrews, D. A. Harwood and Emmett Elliott.

Final Pre-nuptial
Event Held

Given as a final pre-nuptial compliment to Miss Mae Belle Lupo, whose marriage to Charles Francis of this city took place Saturday afternoon in Corona, was a surprise party Thursday evening in the Corona home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tracht. The bride had been a guest in the Tracht home for the past several days.

Miss Mary Tracht and Mrs. Lewis Sturges were co-hostesses at the party, which was shared by a group of close friends of Miss Lupo and Mr. Francis. Games were played during the evening. As alarm clocks sounded from time to time, the bride went in search of shower packages which yielded her a number of lovely gifts.

St. Patrick's appointments were in evidence at the refreshment hour. More than a score of southland friends were entertained.

Santa Anans Return
From Albuquerque

Returning home Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. George Bond, Mrs. Rose Havelly, Clarence Bond and daughter, Beverly, concluded a week's trip to Albuquerque, N. M., where they visited with relatives. They divided their time between the homes of Mrs. Bond's nieces, Mrs. R. J. Reed, who has been a frequent visitor to Santa Ana, and Mrs. Richard Boyd. Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Boyd were joined by Mrs. John Davidson in giving a tea Tuesday in compliment to the Santa Anans.

Fifty guests were welcomed to the affair, during which Mr. and Mrs. George Bond renewed acquaintance with many of their friends in Albuquerque, where they resided formerly. Miss Beverly Bond assisted in serving refreshments and in other details of the afternoon party.

Tonight's Bride Inspires
Springtime Party, Shower

Springtime setting, lovely gowns, and above all the romantic significance of the occasion, combined to make one of the most charming parties of the season Saturday afternoon when Miss Eugenia Gilbert entertained in compliment to Miss Mary Blakeman. The marriage of Miss Blakeman and Lawrence Hogue will take place tonight at 7 o'clock in Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale.

A number of former Pomona college classmates of hostess and bride-elect were among Southland friends welcomed to the Gilbert home, 420 South Main street. This was the first opportunity that many of the group had been given to extend congratulations to Miss Blakeman, whose wedding plans were so recently revealed. The ceremony had been anticipated as an event of late 1937, and was advanced to spring when Mr. Hogue secured a position with Soule Steele company of San Francisco. He has been employed with Security First national bank of Los Angeles since he completed a two-year course at Stanford graduate school of business, where he received his master's degree.

Lovely Frocks

For Saturday's party, the hostess, Miss Gilbert, was attired in a lovely frock in the same deep shade of pink as the many flowering peach blossoms arranged throughout the rooms. Her sister, Miss Geraldine Gilbert, and the mother, Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, was in black crepe with metallic trim. Miss Blakeman's blond loveliness was enhanced by her lace frock in flesh tones. Her mother, Mrs. Beulah T. Blakeman, wore printed chiffon in blue shades.

Out-of-town guests were received between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock, with Orange county friends sharing the pleasant hospitality during the later afternoon hours. Linens in wide variety, including a filet lace cloth, a banquet cloth, towels and other articles, were showered upon Miss Blakeman by out-of-town guests. From friends living in this community were gifts of crystal in Fernwood pattern. Sherberts, goblets and plates in service for 12 were included.

Forming an effective centerpiece at the tea table were graceful sprays of peach blossoms and allium in a silver-filled crystal bowl. Arranged on a mirror, the bouquet was circled with peach blossoms, and lighted with tall white tapers in silver candlesticks.

Assistants

Miss Blakeman's aunt, Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, attired in a black chiffon gown with metallic trimming, presided at the silver tea service. Miss Hogue's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Hogue, of Huntington Park, in pink satin, sat opposite and served laces designed with pink wedding bells with angelfood dips embellished with pale pink blossoms. Assisting at the tea hour were Miss Eleanor Crookshank, in pale pink crepe; Miss Geraldine Gilbert and Mrs. Gilbert, who aided in all details of hospitality.

Long-Time Friends

Miss Blakeman and Miss Eugenia Gilbert have been friends since early high school days, when Miss Blakeman was Miss Gilbert's "big sister" at Santa Ana high school. Both continued their studies at Pomona college. Mr. Hogue, also, is a graduate of Pomona college, having taken one year of his studies at Monmouth college, in Illinois, his home state. His mother, Mrs. Calvin E. Hogue, formerly of Santa Ana and more recently of Alhambra, has been in Monmouth for the past few weeks, and will not be present for the wedding tonight. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Beulah T. Blakeman, and of the late William Blakeman, of this city.

Tonight's wedding service will be conducted by the bridegroom's brother, the Rev. Harland E. Hogue of San Diego, assisted by the Rev. Morfett Rhodes, of that city, former pastor of Spurgeon Memorial church here. The bridal party will leave later for San Francisco.

Tea Guests

Out-of-town guests at Saturday's tea were Mesdames Gene Imbach, James Henderson, Paul Dougan, Harold Fish, John Ferte, Clyde Spears, Hiram Strong, Graham Orr, Ernest Strathman, Jack Shackelford and the Misses Ruth La France, Mary Bigelow, Lauretta Wilkinson and Ellen Bauers, and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Coates of Long Beach.

Others present were Mesdames Katherine Handley, Herbert Hearle, Alice Cox, A. Stearns, Albert Payne, Jeannette Erickson, Fred Perry, Ernest Crozier Phillips, Merritt White, Ted Newcomb; the Misses Ruth Campbell, Katherine Adams, Nell Crawford, Doris Tittle, Adahurt Ellis, Marian Bruner, Mary Porter, Eleanor Crookshank, Thelma Johnson, Willena Bell, Ruth Stoner, Catherine Walbridge, Thelma Morehouse, Marjorie Ann Mathes, Dorothy Dausen, Hannah Peterson, Larry Franz, Helen Smith, Helen Mulholland; with the hostess, Miss Eugenia Gilbert, Miss Geraldine Gilbert, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Blakeman, the honoree; Miss Blakeman and Mrs. Hogue.

Pretty Wedding Rites
Are Held
In M. E. Bride Chapel

Here in her former home city of Santa Ana and where her mother, Mrs. Fred Stowe still lives at 212 North Ross street, Miss Lettie Stowe of Los Angeles yesterday exchanged wedding vows with Joseph McIlroy of Hollywood, at a service of extreme beauty in First M. E. Bride Chapel.

Ushering the hundred or more guests to their places in the flower-filled chapel, were two cousins, Messrs. Harold Stowe of this city and Jack Stowe of Pasadena, nephews of the bride. Bridal music was played by Miss Mayme Havens, and Mrs. John P. Williams sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "All For You."

Miss Stowe, given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth Stowe, now of Pasadena, chose for the rites, a smart swaggar suit in lupin blue, worn with delicate pink blouse matched in tone by her gloves, and with hat, slippers and handbag in navy blue. Completing her smart appearance was the corsage cluster of pink rosesbud she wore.

Miss Irene Ostigul of Los Angeles as maid of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Spotts Ore of Salt Lake City came south especially for the ceremony. Mrs. Ore, who was matron of honor, wore a black costume. The bride was attired charmingly in a black crepe afternoon dress with bodice of marquisette adorned with beaded loops. With this she wore a corsage cluster of gardenias, and an off-the-face hat with short veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Hardy of this city were among guests at the wedding, which was followed by a buffet supper.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Winder will reside at 1250 South Rose street, and the bridegroom will resume his duties with William Cavellier and company. He studied at University of Utah and at Harvard Business school. Since coming to this city two years ago he has become a member of Southern California Fifty-Fifty club, of Twenty-Thirty club and of Tux and Gown club. His bride also attended University of Utah.

In Santa Ana

When Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Winder return from a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs and Escondido and establish their home in Santa Ana, they will be welcomed by a wide circle of friends of Mr. Winder, who is a popular member of the younger social set in this city.

His bride, the former Miss Cleo William of Salt Lake City, will be introduced to Santa Anans during various informal affairs already planned in her honor. The marriage of Miss Williams, a member of a prominent family in Salt Lake City, and of Mr. Winder, son of William Winder also of Salt Lake City, took place Saturday evening, March 6, in Beverly Hills. The home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Williams, was setting for the ceremony at 5 o'clock.

Bishop David Howells of Los Angeles read the service in the presence of a little group of relatives and close friends. The bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Spotts Ore of Salt Lake City came south especially for the ceremony. Mrs. Ore, who was matron of honor, wore a black costume. The bride was attired charmingly in a black crepe afternoon dress with bodice of marquisette adorned with beaded loops. With this she wore a corsage cluster of gardenias, and an off-the-face hat with short veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Hardy of this city were among guests at the wedding, which was followed by a buffet supper.

With Mrs. Gowdy

Garlanding one long damask spread table with pastel hued stocks and slim white tapers in silver candlesticks, Mrs. Roy Gowdy provided such charming appointments for a luncheon Friday, that she aroused admiration of all the members of her long-established bridge club.

County Group
Presides At Annual Party

Enjoying an afternoon's program which progressed from a refreshment interval to a fashion show and bridge party, 200 guests took part in a springtime party which Orange county branch, A.A.U.W., gave Saturday afternoon as an annual junior college student loan fund benefit.

Ebell clubhouse peacock room was scene of the affair, which proved one of the most successful of the annual parties given by the county group. Sunny acacia blossoms in peacock blue vases on the stage contributed to a festive background arranged for the occasion.

Miss Martha Ehlen, president of the organization, and her executive board members served as a reception committee. Miss Genevieve Humiston, general chairman, supervised the many details of the afternoon's hospitality.

Pretty Setting

When guests arrived, card tables presented an inviting appearance with their pastel-hued linens centered with circles of vari-colored dillies bearing small pottery trays of tiny blossoms. These dainty little centerpieces later served as table prizes in bridge. Other events of the day were preceded by the serving of dessert. Ushering and serving were Junior college service club members, the Misses Ethel Manning, Le Fay Morris, Betty Lee, Betty Hammond, Anne Wetherell, Elaine McReynolds, Mary Elizabeth Haney, Betty Hill, Virginia Curry, Mary Paxton, Jean Mulbar, Eleanor Brady, Ann Borchard, Ruth Budd, representing Moav, Las Meninas, Sisterhood of Spinners, Las Gitanas and Piloteers.

Fat Girl Laughs and Grows Slim

Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of fatty flesh and getting back slender figures, without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every issue so you know what you are taking. So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Get to your druggist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

Here is good news for the middle aged woman whose hands have taken on an old shriveled look and for the woman of any age whose nails are so dry and lifeless, they break if looked at. Get a bottle of mineral oil and use at night after the face and hands have been well washed and dried. Rub the oil gently into the skin with light massage strokes. Let stay on skin for 15 minutes, then wipe off the excess oil. For a make-up lotion as well as a lotion to use after dish washing, mix these items:

In an 8-ounce bottle put 2 ounces of glycerine, 1/2 ounce of tincture of benzoin, 2 ounces toilet vinegar, or the same quantity of strained, boiled, lemon juice. Shake well and add from 3 to 4 ounces of mineral oil, shake well to mix, and shake again before using. For convenience allow 1/4 cup for each 2 ounces, or measure by tablespoons (2 tbsps. to each ounce). After using the make-up lotion, dip a piece of absorbent cotton into bay rum or cologne, wipe off excess lotion, and then apply make-up.

The new shorter skirts with their saucy swing weren't designed for short fat women. Get rid of those unwanted pounds by first living on an orange diet with skimmed milk (coffee in morning). Take two oranges at a meal, with a half glass of milk, let the meals be two hours apart from breakfast time until the usual dinner hour. A dozen per day is the usual rule. After this preliminary slimming down diet, begin with our safe and sane reducing diet, and be pleasantly surprised when you step on the scale each week to see the pounds moving away. The diet is free, just write for it, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPES

A Chocolate Loaf Cake

I
1 cup cocoa
1/2 cup evaporated milk and
1/2 cup hot water
1 egg yolk
II
1 cup lard (or veg. fat)
creamed with
2 cups white sugar
1 egg, well beaten, mixed with
1 cup sweet milk
3 cups sifted cake flour, measured and sifted twice again with
1 1/2 teaspoons soda and 1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla.

—Contributed Recipe.
Whip egg yolk in part I with milk, add water, and gradually beat into the dry cocoa. Put the mixture over hot water and stir constantly until somewhat thick, then cool.
Mix the second part as listed, alternating flour and liquid in mixing batter. When smoothly mixed whip the cocoa with the batter, add vanilla and pour into a square bread tin. (Line only bottom with paper). Bake in a 275 degree oven for 30 minutes, then set heat up to 325 degrees for remaining 15 minutes. Frost with a boiled icing, leaving the cake in the pan. The contributor says: "Pick out a good hiding place for this cake."

Moulded Cranberry Salad
2 cups raw cranberries, run through chopper
3 large apples, grated
1 small can crushed pineapple (1 cup)
2 boxes strawberry gelatine
2 cups boiling water.

—Contributed.
Strain juice from pineapple, add to water, dissolve the gelatine and when cooled and slightly jelled, add the fruit, mix well, and put in rinsed moulds. Serve with whipped cream mayonnaise. (I think this recipe could stand more water, at least a cupful).

Monk Who Defied A Pope

REFORM was in the air, early in the 17th century, but when Paul V assumed the papacy in 1605, he adopted strict measures to affirm the power of Rome. In Venice, Fra Paolo Sarpi, patriot, scholar, and theologian, upheld the state's supremacy over the church, in daring defiance of the edict from Rome. Sarpi even went so far as to demand toleration of worship for Protestants in Venice, and for this Venice made him state councillor in jurisprudence. The recognition exasperated Sarpi's enemies. One dark night he was attacked by a band of assassins and left for dead. But his wounds healed, and he continued to advance his reforms. Plots against him continued, and he even planned to seek refuge in England. But he remained in his cloister in Venice, intent on the study of science and theology, until he died in 1623, aged 71. Sarpi's portrait appears on one of the stamps issued by Italy in 1932, for the Dante Alighieri Society.

WPA TRANSFER IS PROTESTED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 8.—(UP)—Proposed transfer of approximately 1500 persons from the WPA rolls to direct relief in Los Angeles county would add about $200,000 to a deficit now estimated at between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000, officials of the county told the assembly social service and welfare committee today.

A group of Los Angeles officials headed by Supervisor Herbert C. Legg and Rex Thompson, superintendent of charities, protested the dropping of these "unemployables" from state aid and turning them over to the care of the county on the ground no provision had been made for the increased burden. Both officials asserted the superior court had been unable to predict such large additions to the relief load at the time the budget was adopted.

Legg urged the committee to sponsor legislation which would secure proper co-ordination in the transfer of aged persons from state to county relief agencies so that the recipients of aid would not have to undergo a period of hardship while being shifted from one to the other.

CALLED SOUTH BY BROTHER'S DEATH

Mrs. N. D. Cash and little son, Jackie, returned yesterday to their home, 1614 South Main street, from San Diego, where they were called by the critical illness of Mrs. Cash's brother, Paul Rust, whose death came Saturday in Mercy hospital, San Diego.

Dr. and Mrs. Cash will return to San Diego for the funeral services to be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Paul Rust's death, at the age of 31, followed a long illness which came when he was just launched in his chosen career of teaching. He was a graduate of Arizona Teachers' college at Flagstaff, and had taught but one year in the Arizona schools when he underwent a serious operation from which he never fully recovered.

He is survived by but the two sisters, Mrs. Cash of this city, and Mrs. D. H. Dixon, of San Diego.

SEARCH STARTED FOR MISSING BOAT

SAN PEDRO, Cal., March 8.—(UP)—Three coast guard cutters left here today in search for the pleasure fishing boat Sunshine II, 10 hours overdue at 2 p. m. today on a cruise to the Santa Barbara channel islands with 40 persons aboard.

The cutters Aurora, Calypso and Ewing were dispatched by coast guard headquarters when operators of the fishing boat reported it overdue since 4 a. m. this morning.

Foggy weather prevailed between here and Santa Cruz island, one of the chain of islands the boat expected to visit. The coast guard said the Sunshine II did not carry radio apparatus and may have been held up by the weather.

BANDIT GETS $350 WITH BLAST THREAT

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 8.—(UP)—Threatening to blast the crowded lobby of the Texas Electric Service company building with nitroglycerin, a well dressed young man today forced a cashier to give him several hundred dollars in cash.

The man shoved a typewritten note in the window, then he exhibited a small bottle. The note read: "I have nitroglycerin in this bottle. I don't care if I die or not. All I want is money and I want it quick."

Mrs. Lillie Campbell, the cashier read the note and started dealing out currency. First she gave him all the $20 bills in sight, then 10 bills. When she started paying out fives, the young man said, "That's enough," picked up the money and walked out the front door. It amounted to $350.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

By MARIE BLIZARD

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, rents her deceased father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive young bachelor architect, and promptly likes him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, JENNIFER, six years younger, just out of college and at her first job. Jennifer resents Daphne's attempts at guidance and proceeds to date who she pleases, including TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy and former beau of Daphne's. The doctor and she makes a play for his attention. This develops a strong dislike between the sisters for the same man.

One night Larry dates Daphne. At the same time Daphne refuses Jennifer permission to date Tuck. Daphne spends a thrilling evening with the man she loves, is sorry she didn't let Daphne date Tuck just once more. Then, in the early hours of the next morning, she returns to her apartment to find Jennifer is gone.

She lies awake over the problem, falls asleep finally. At dawn Jennifer is gone. The door is ajar. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI
DAPHNE stared at the door for a full minute, her feet refusing to obey the command of her brain. She was afraid to open that door. The pounding in the silence of the early morning struck blows of apprehension into her.

At last she reached the door and jerked it open.

"Hi, there! You're a sound sleeper." It was Jennifer, a little less lovely in the gray light. The hem of her white satin gown was soiled. Her hands were blue where they clutched her evening wrap about her shivering shoulders. Her hair was in disarray but her manner was jaunty enough.

Daphne was unable to speak. Her fears turned to swift anger that bubbled up in her throat. Without speaking she turned and went into the bath, started the hot water in the tub. Then she stepped back to the living room and lighted the hearth fire.

"Sit here," she said shortly and drew a chair up before the fire. Jennifer sank into it and waved her chiffon handkerchief airily above her head.

"Thank you, I call service. You're a good sport."

Daphne had knelt down to take off Jennifer's slippers.

Thass. The word returned to her. She sat back on her heels.

"Jennifer," she asked gently, "have you been drinking?"

Jennifer kicked off her slippers and sat up a bit straighter. Her head moved in a gesture Daphne knew too well but her voice was not as brave as she meant it to be.

"What if I have been? I'm of age and I know what I'm doing. Why don't you go to bed?"

"That's what I'm going to do. I don't trust myself to talk to you now. Your tub is ready. We'll discuss this tomorrow."

The mantle clock struck six.

Twelve hours later it was striking when Daphne let herself into her living room. This was the hour she had dreaded all day, a day that Jennifer had stolen from her. This should have been a memorable day in her life. A day to savor her new-found happiness.

INSTEAD it had been a day filled with heaviness and weariness. With the weight of her responsibility and the knowledge that it was unfair that she, who was only a girl herself, should have to meet the problem that Jennifer had proved herself.

She had expected to be greeted with sullenness, with defiance. Perhaps at that Jennifer would not be there at all.

"Jennifer!"

"Hello, darling, welcome home. I've a treat for you tonight. I'm making something you like for dinner." Jennifer was in the kitchen. Daphne caught her breath in sheer surprise while she took in the unexpectedness of fresh flowers in the bowl on her desk, the small table smartly set for two.

She took firm hold of herself. She was not to be wooed this way. But she took her cue from Jennifer and responded brightly to Jennifer's questions about the day until they had cleared away the dinner and sat, with their coffee, before the blazing hearth.

"Might as well make up your mind to it, Jennifer, the time has come to talk. I want to know where you were last night."

"You might as well make up your mind, you're going to hear some unpleasant things yourself, Daph. One of the things is that I'm not going to be treated like a child anymore. However, I'll tell you where I was last night. I went on a party with George Blumenthal."

"Who in heaven's name is George Blumenthal and why did you lie to me about wanting to go out with Tuck?"

"George Blumenthal is a very charming, very rich young man that I met at a party somewhere. He . . . he knows a lot of people and he happened to call me up and ask me out after you had left." Daphne knew that Jennifer was lying.

BILL JAM ENDS BY UNICAMERAL BRAKE SYSTEM

By ROBERT KELLY

LINCOLN, Neb., (UP)—The Nebraska one-house legislature has accomplished one of the objectives of its sponsors—reduction in number of bills introduced.

At the end of the 30th legislative day, the deadline for presentation of new measures under the senate's self-imposed rules, only 551 bills had fallen into the hopper as contrasted with 1,956 bills introduced at the 1935 session of the two-house legislature.

Four bills later were withdrawn because their sponsors discovered duplicate measures had been introduced on the last day before the deadline.

The bills covered subjects running the gamut of human activity. There was a proposal to legalize euthanasia, commonly known as "mercy death," a bill to make it unlawful to use profane language in the presence of the dead, and other unusual measures.

The surprising development was that there were no bills for new forms of taxes, such as income taxes, sales taxes or cigarette taxes.

Nebraska has refused to follow other states in obtaining new kinds of revenue to supplement its property taxes, except that it has a 5-cent gasoline tax, a small part of which is used for the state's social security program.

Cost of operating the unicameral legislature during its first month, including part payment of salaries to members, was $33,984. The chairman of the legislative administration committee said he believed total expense would not exceed $150,000 and possibly would run as low as $100,000.

The last two-house regular session of the legislature cost the state $190,246.35.

The legislature's policy of devoting every afternoon to committee hearings has evoked unprecedented public interest in the processes of lawmaking. Open sessions have attracted crowds up to 500 persons.

The old senate chamber, which observers feared would fall into disuse with the adoption of the unicameral system, is being used for committee hearings.

One bill was introduced to provide machinery for holding annual instead of biennial sessions of the legislature in the event members this spring, after disposing of essential matters such as appropriations, feel restless and want to go home early. They can then declare an adjournment until a stated time and resume consideration of bills on file.

The floor of the legislature was the scene of great confusion on the final day for introduction of bills. Reason was that lobbyists this year have had greater difficulty than ever before in inducing members to sponsor bills.

Approximately $150 worth of damage was done this afternoon to a home at 1513 Bush street, belonging to Building Contractor Newell S. Crouse, and occupied by the William C. Faber family, when a fire broke out in the upstairs room and burned a portion of the roof off.

Fire Marshal Elmer Gates, who investigated the reports.

It is believed the use of solder on electric floor plugs caused the wires to short circuit in the upper portion of the house. Firemen extinguished the flames.

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

A GOOD INVESTMENT

There has been a lot of outcry over the fact that the Board of Supervisors has paid a man $50 a day and his expenses to represent Orange county in efforts to get a mere $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 from the United States government for flood control along the Santa Ana river.

Heaven knows we need the flood control, and surely we should welcome $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 from the government, which seems to have gone strong into the business of scattering millions and billions around the country.

But when it comes to hiring a man at $50 a day, for two or three weeks or a month, why, the whole hayseed spirit within our breasts seems to burst out with a yell of derision—more than that, with a yell of agony. We fairly paw the air in our effort to seize our supervisors by the throat. Fifty dollars a day! Think of it! Why, no living human being can possibly be worth fifty dollars a day, and therefore we should join in a great outcry, and break somebody's neck.

Let's see. Did you ever go to a hospital and have a surgeon work on your anatomy? Did you pay him $100, $200, $500 an hour for the time he put in getting a cancerous growth out of your spleen, or of cutting new entrances and exits for your stomach? Did you ever hire a good lawyer to quit his office and go off across country for you? If he was a good lawyer, he would not be a $4 a day lawyer, now would he?

Those who have been making newspaper sport out of paying this engineer, Malone, $50 a day have been calling him a lobbyist. That word lobbyist is just a word that some people use to try to discredit somebody who goes about government business for you. If they really want to condemn him beyond all human sympathy they will call him a politician. He may not be a lobbyist and he may not be a politician, but just the same those who go forth to destroy somebody's effectiveness will start calling him a lobbyist or a politician.

As a matter of fact, this man, Malone, is an engineer. He is an engineer of high standing. He knows the ins and outs of our water problem. He can sit down with a group of inquisitive engineers back in Washington and answer all of the technical questions they can fire at him. He has experience enough and intelligence enough and training enough as an engineer to meet them at every turn of the inquiry. He has standing, so that his word is good.

It may be that the reason why he has been paid $50 a day is because he is worth $50 a day. That is his price. That is the price you would have to pay if you hired him to do work for you as an individual. That is what you would have to pay any engineer of his standing and achievements to go to Washington, South America or China for you.

After all, the supervisors have not been reckless in hiring a man like Malone. After all, $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 is worth trying for, and worth trying for in a sensible effective way. After all, flood control is as much a need in this county as it ever was. Yet, in spite of the fact that our Congressman has sent word that he needs Malone back in Washington to help get this mere handful of million dollars, the board is hesitating. There has been so much newspaper sport, so much outcry, so much agony over "Orange county's $50-a-day lobbyist" the board seems to have become weak-kneed over the matter. It begins to look as though the board will jeopardize the success of the project just because a lot of us can't understand why we don't call for volunteers to go back at $3 a day, expenses paid. We'd get a lot of volunteers, and they wouldn't know what they were talking about when they got there. The board had better send a $50 a day man back there and put him to work. Let's not send a boy to mill.

And speaking of salaries at Washington, we are paying our Congressman $27 a day the year around, and we have no assurance that he knows bedrock from a concrete fill, and when he calls for the help of an engineer, let us send him the help he says he needs, and let us send him a $50-a-day man to do a $50-a-day job that we want done—about ten or twelve million dollars' worth.

RAISING WAGES

The President in his speech says the Democratic administration and the congress made a gallant, sincere effort to raise wages, to reduce hours, to abolish child labor, to eliminate unfair trade practices. He promises the citizenry that if he is given control he will raise wages, although it has never been done in all history by the method he proposes to use.

The majority of people believe that he magically will be able to accomplish it. They believe it simply because they wish that wages could be raised in the easy way by which the President proposes, namely, by fiat—by law.

He is a great promiser. Most people always have believed promises when they were pleasant to believe, although the promiser never demonstrated his ability to carry out his promises. It is doubtful whether the President has ever directly increased the real wages of anyone. Yet he is perfectly willing to promise the public that he can do what the combined brains of the country have not been able to—eliminate want in this country.

ORDERED AROUND

Frank Garbutt, in his syndicated article, says his friend who visited Russia tells him that one of the reasons why the workers in Russia like the present system is that "they are not exploited and ordered around by a wealthy, aristocratic ruling class."

Russia of course knows enough not to permit people to become aristocratic by proverbs and combinations for restraint of trade. They know that the real standard of living is raised only by production. They know that if any group is aristocratic and consumes a large fraction of the total production, the workers must of necessity consume less. When the workers can be ordered around by the aristocratic employers, who seem to think they have some right to pay out fictitious wages to favorites, flatterers, intimidators and rob the customers and at the same time prevent competent workers from having an opportunity to perform a service, this arbitrary power of ordering workers around and allowing the inefficient to take what belongs to the efficient, is one of the causes of our present economic problem.

Unless we can solve this, we must feel concern for the future of our nation, just as the President has so wisely stated.

REDUCING COMPETITION ONLY INCREASES COMPETITION

It seems to be the general belief of the majority of people that we can reduce competition among the workers by reducing the number of hours the workers dare work. What we fail to realize is that it is not work we want, but we want more and more of the fruits of work—better jobs.

If we reduce the number of hours, we will reduce the production and we will make competition for things keener than ever.

It is a strange world, when we come to believe that we can all have more by the simple device of limiting the number of hours that people dare work.

Sweet is the memory of distant friends. Like the mellow rays of the declining sun, it falls tenderly, yet sadly, on the heart.

—Washington Irving.

Mr. Editor:

About three years ago the first of January, the State Highway Police Department gave notice in the papers that drivers of motor vehicles would be taught to drive on the right hand side of the pavement, meaning of course that they should drive close to the right hand edge or curb. I think by the way about one-third of the drivers are driving they must have misunderstood the instructions or they are wilfully ignoring the rule. A great many drivers leisurely diddle along close to the center line, and no amount of horn tooting will budge them one inch to the right, when if they would drive near the right edge of the pavement there would be plenty of room for a passing car to get by without passing over the center line.

Some of these road hogs are to blame for a lot of the accidents; accidents that would never have happened if they had been driving on the right side of the pavement as they should have been, and I believe some of them deliberately cause accidents. They will diddle along at 20 to 30 miles and keep you behind till the road is clear for more than the distance required for you to pass, and when you attempt to pass he speeds up and keeps you over the line till it is most impossible to avoid an accident, and if you happen to meet another as on a road hog there will be an accident in spite of all you can do, when if either one of these hogs had been anything but hogs, they would have tried to prevent an accident, and there would not have been an accident. First because the driver being passed would have driven on, or pulled over to the right side of the pavement, and he would not have stepped on the gas till the passing driver got by him. He would have even slowed down till driver was past to make sure there would be no accident. Second, because the driver meeting you would have slowed down, and would have even pulled off of the pavement to avoid an accident. The application of the golden rule is a wonderful help in our traffic relationship, and it will go a long way in preventing accidents.

Sometimes both the driver being passed and the driver meeting you seem bent on trapping you into an accident. The one being passed steps on the gas to keep you from getting back to your side of the line, and the one meeting you steps on it to catch you before you can get back over the line. We will have had accidents as long as such road hogs are allowed to drive.

Then we have the speeders, they want speed and more speed, they don't want to be confined to any reasonable speed. They are speed

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

Saturday afternoon I was down the cellar by request piling up old newspapers and stuff, and pop came down to look at the furnace, saying, Well well, as busy as a beaver, and a very good animal to be as busy as.

Well G, pop, I wish I had a trained beaver to do this for me, I don't call this any fun, I said, and pop said, Then you should make it fun. The man who can make fun out of work, no matter what kind of work it is, is a happy man, and 19 times out of 20 a successful man, and the same thing also applies to boys.

Well holey smokes, pop, good nite, how can anybody have fun piling up these dusty old papers? I said, and he said, The way to have fun doing any kind of work is by trying to do it a little better than it's ever been done before. Now for instance you're not enjoying yourself because you're piling up those papers in such a haphazard, listless way that even a baby beaver would be ashamed of you. Hasn't it occurred to you to try and see how neetly you can pile them, instead of now sloppily? he said.

G, pop, how do you mean? I said, and he said, Yee gods let me give you an example, now watch and learn.

And he started to pile the papers up as careful as anything, saying, There, look at that pile, it looks as if an architect had planned it, in other words I'm taking pride in my work and consequently enjoying it.

But that's only one pile, pop, nobody could do a lot of piles as good as that, I bet, I said, and he said, Don't be silly, quantity and quality go hand in hand for the master craftsman.

And he did 2 more piles just as good, saying, Hay, by the way, who's suppose to be enjoying this work, you or I?

Me, pop, and so I am, I'm enjoying watching you, I said.

The result being I had to make all my own enjoyment for the rest of the job, which I did, feeling lucky, on account of hardly any being left to do.

reckless; just another breed of road hogs that are causing the bulk of the accidents. They go 45 to 75 miles by blind corners and through intersections regardless of traffic coming in from side street.

There is too much speeding. Forty to 45 miles is fast enough on any road and that speed is too fast unless the slow down rule is observed at blind corners and for traffic coming in from side streets. You can't tell what the other fellow will do; slow down and let him go first if he will, if you see that he is slowing to let you go first, then get along out of his way.

But what is the use; we will have accidents and more accidents, till people learn to give the other fellow a chance, do to others as they would be done by, and take time to drive careful.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

THE HAND-MINDED CHILD

The child who, to my mind, is among the most useful children of the world, is neglected in school, shamed at home, ignored by society for the most part. Schools were established to teach the book-minded children when only that sort of child was educated. The hand-minded child got his training, and it was a good one, at home. In that day home held all the arts and crafts and trades with its circle of activities. To-day home holds very little except the stove, the beds and the radio. What is the hand-minded child to do? Schools do not want him, colleges won't have him. Even the high schools have grown snooty and want only students with honor marks. The law won't let him find himself a job, even if he could. What is he to do and where is he to go?

I agree heartily that the adult members of society are the ones to carry on in the working world, but I must voice my concern about these children who are not fitted by nature to do the school work.

What, for example, is a boy of 14, five feet, ten, weighs one hundred and sixty-four, in sound health, poor in school subjects, eager to use his muscles and his intelligence, for he has plenty, to do? The school benches do not fit him, the long periods of sitting still, in idleness—for he cannot even think along the lines that teacher is laying down—are torture for him. When he can stand no more he has an outburst of temper, or he creates disorder, and is driven out. Where is he to go?

He is not the exception. There is a great group of him. He forms the groups on the corner. He is among those present before the Judge. He is in the behavior clinics, in the reform schools. He is everywhere but where he belongs, in some good vocational school, in some good shop, learning the elements of his life work. This useful, necessary child is being wasted by the thousand in this child-loving land.

This child has been troubling the minds of social leaders for some time. His increasing numbers in the various corrective institutions is alarming thoughtful people. Clubs are being opened to offer him a place to loaf and invite his soul; play places are being built for him. They will not serve. This child does not want to play away his life. His instinct is to be useful, to work hard at his chosen task. He wants to do something that will give him the pride of the Creator and say, "It is good." Only when he can do this is his health and the health of the nation insured.

When seeking ways to save these children why not try Education? We have schools waiting to be used. After all, a school building can serve children any hour of the day and evening quite as well as between nine and three. It can serve all the year round, if necessary, and it is necessary. We have plenty of teachers waiting for work. Why not use what we have and take care of these boys and girls today, in their growing time, before it is too late. Tomorrow means loss of this great group of worthy, useful, necessary young citizens.

We ought to have schools for civic servants, for trades, for household workers, for any sort of work that any sort of young person wishes to learn. Saying there is no future for young workers is wicked nonsense. Let's get busy.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

PHONETICS—

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Vox pop seems to be developing a yodeling laryngitis, or else there is tampering with the sound effects of the nation.

At the outset of this court packing dispute, protests from citizens to congressmen through the mails encouraged congressional opposition and really prevented the President's plan from being rushed through. Immediately thereafter, the mail-bag developed into a key factor in the tactical situation.

Mr. R's legislative arrangers realize this, and have started moves to offset it. Their off-setting campaign has now developed to the point where they have secretly put workers into the offices of legislators to conduct retail surveys of the incoming mail.

Executive officials have been given lists of senators to "work on" and sub-officers and-or relatives have been assigned legislators' mail to be "off-set".

DISCRETING—

A golden discovery has been reported to the inner circle by the investigator of one congressman's correspondence. It so happened that this congressman came from a contested congressional district in which polling lists were available. The investigator checked the names on incoming letters against the polling lists and discovered to his gratification that most of the letters appeared to be from Republicans, who, as everyone knows, do not count since the last election.

As a result of the discovery, it is said calls have been sent out for the polling lists of other vital congressional districts and an official "expose" will be made public shortly.

On the other side of the story, the labor lobby's activity for the President's program is at last being reflected in incoming congressional mail. So is the new activity of the state political committees, acting under the spur of the Democratic national committee. However, farm pressure for the President still seems to be deficient.

As a result, a few legislators now are reporting a preponderance of mail for the court plan. Others maintain the radio against has not changed.

VAULTING—

Practical political tacticians did not believe Mr. R's opening court campaign speech at the victory dinner was up to his unexcelled campaign standard.

His trouble, as they see it, is that he has been forced to change his position of attack completely since the presidential campaign. Five months ago, his position was that the country is safe, getting more prosperous all the time, that all the Republican alarm was purely political. Now, he has been compelled to go back to the position he used at the outset of the New Deal, namely that the country is in danger, that, unless his program is effected, he fears the worst. Thus he has had to jump from the tone of assurance back to the tone of alarm.

The step would be within an ordinary mind's reach if it were not for the fact that it is selling so high, that the long-sought goal of parity for agricultural products has at last been generally established. Also Mr. Lewis has failed to collaborate in painting the picture of necessity for hours and wages amendments. On the eve of the President's speech, he signed a contract for a 40-hour week and a wage increase with the nation's largest industry, steel. A week or so earlier, he claimed to have effected a similar result in what is probably the second largest industry, autos.

RESPECT—

True admiration of a politician: Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican from President Roosevelt's own district, in a speech: "I admire President Roosevelt because he can get away with murder."

VERTICALITY—

Some are asking why the steel manager did not sign an agreement with President Green of the A. F. of L. and thus seek to get around the other labor faction of Mr. John Lewis.

The answer is that, in dealing with Mr. Green, they would have to negotiate with a dozen different leaders of craft unions within their industry, machinists, molders, carpenters, etc. By accepting the vertical union of Mr. Lewis, they deal with one man for their whole industry, and incidentally, as they explain it, a man who will "keep his word".

Thus, industry itself seems to be leaning to the vertical union of Mr. Lewis instead of the horizontal unions of Mr. Green.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON — The wave of Democratic victory dinners all over the country yesterday was backed by a big enough election triumph to justify serving stewed elephants, but it is as yet no victory in the war.

The New Deal made its appearance in the campaign of 1932, but the war began in 1929. It began with the collapse of the old cluster of political and economic policies in the market smash. It continued through the black years of depression until, in 1930, popular feeling revolted.

A campaign to change administration began. It meant a complete change in the old policies which had so tragically failed. It was a great popular fight for relief from depression by new political alignments. The first battle was won in 1930, when the complexion of Congress was changed and the first slaughter of reactionaries occurred.

But Mr. Hoover and his henchmen held the fort for two years more. They dug in and prepared for the new assault of popular resentment against old policies in 1932.

In the meantime the New Deal was formulated and presented in that campaign.

While it was indefinite in part, its fundamental principle was clear. It was to shift federal policy from one of inaction to one of great activity on every front—agriculture, labor, public utilities, banking, the exchanges, conservation. It was overwhelmingly endorsed in the election. Battle No. 2 in the campaign to give federal policy a completely new direction was won, but as it proved, the war was just begun. There was no victory.

Hardly had the proposals of the campaign been translated into laws, than the forces defeated in the great and solemn referendum of 1932 began an effective rear-guard action. First it was said that some of the legislation enacted had not been proposed in 1932 and therefore was not within the popular mandate. But the principal assault was a mobilization of lawyers in serried ranks to resist and attack every element of the whole New Deal program in the courts.

The first attack—the assertion that new legislation was undisciplined in detail in 1932, and therefore had no popular mandate—was overwhelmingly defeated in the mid-term congressional elections of 1934. Whether the New Deal had been sufficiently developed in 1932 or not, it was all clearly developed by 1934. It received a resounding endorsement in those elections.

No. 2. But on another front the great popular movement begun in 1930 was completely routed in the years 1932 to 1936. The Supreme Court smashed the New Deal center, shattered its right wing and rolled back the left of its line.

Into this situation came the election of 1936. The whole line of battle was now fully disclosed on both sides. The entire New Deal was on the books. Its enemies were seen to be exactly the same enemies who fought it in the first three great battles of 1930, 1932, and 1934. They were the same forces who had so smashingly attacked and won in the courts from 1932 to 1936.

The attitude of the Supreme Court was also plain enough. Without some new approach to the court or some change in its attitude or personnel, it was now clear that, no matter what the country wanted, it would be defeated. The President promised to try to work past that barrier within the Constitution and, if he couldn't do that, to seek an amendment.

On this array, the battle progressed to action. The popular movement won its fourth great battle, the election of 1936. It was another victory but still no conquest. The smoke of conflict had hardly cleared away when the President proposed a means to pass the court barrier "within the Constitution."

Instantly he was in his fifth and perhaps his final battle. All his old enemies plus some new ones from his own ranks are in arms. It is a constitutional crisis.
